Long Says Wife Plotted Death, Then 'Doubts' It

COVINGTON, La. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana, having said his wife tried to buy his assassination for $5,000, changed his viewpoint a few hours later by saying: "I doubt that it's true."

Mrs. Long denied the accusation through her attorney.

Gov. Long described the assassin-to-be as a "no-good wife beater", as a "bullshooter" and said, "I wouldn't trust him around the corner."

The story of the alleged assassination purchase came originally from the man Mrs. Long is supposed to have approached and reached the governor through a trusted political associate.

The associate denied to The Associated Press that he ever told the governor this story.

But earlier in the morning, Gov. Long told The Associated Press his wife offered a man $500 as down payment on murder or mayhem. But, he said, the man backed down. For this, said Long, his wife called him "yellow because he wouldn't do it."

Motel News Conference

Newsmen at the noon press conference where Long switched positions noted the governor's apparently weak condition. He lay on the bed in the motel where he has established temporary headquarters. He was covered with a sheet.

Dr. Paul Pratt, his attending physician, tried to limit the press conference to two minutes. Pratt cautioned reporters the 63-year-old governor needed rest, but the physician couldn't check Long once he got started.

"Jealousy brought all this on," said Long. "She wanted to be governor."

"She was jealous of every woman who was around me," he said at one point. He named Wilma Lockhart, his executive secretary; Mary Evelyn Dickerson Parker of the Welfare Department; Cora Russell Schley, his public relations adviser, and others.

Tirade Continues

Still the tirade against his wife of 26 years went on.

"The day I left for Galveston," he said, "she took $4,000 out of my pocket. Three days before we left, she took $3,000 out of my lock box in my room. I haven't seen any of my jewelry since I left the (Baton Rouge) mansion."

His wife, said Gov. Long, "lost her head after she became Democratic national committeewoman in 1956."

"She wanted to be governor. When a newspaper columnist wrote about petticoat governors, all hell broke out at the mansion when I told her to stay out of my business."

Gov. Long's accusation and expression of doubt later came 24 hours after his wife, in a counter-petition of separation, accused him of threatening to kill her.

GOP Making Inflation Top Issue In 1960

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower demanded of Congress Wednesday not only a budget balance in the new fiscal year but a surplus permitting some reduction in the record national debt.

Telling his news conference inflation will be a major election issue in 1960, Eisenhower said he would be delighted if Congress can find proper ways to cut spending below his 77-billion-dollar budget.

In effect, he was serving notice on the Democratic-controlled Congress that the Republicans expect to pre-empt inflation as their own issue in the presidential election year.

He recalled that 1958 brought a Democratic sweep in the congressional elections despite his campaign against "irresponsible spending," leading him to believe that people were "not too much concerned by inflation."

"But I think they have changed their minds," he added.

Neutral As To Nominee

Seemingly unbothered by either the sweltering heat of the crowded conference room or by a barrage of questions ranging from foreign policy to his own 43rd wedding anniversary, Eisenhower told newsmen:

He'll keep hands off the choice of a 1960 Republican presidential nominee. He hinted he has a preference—and few doubted it was Vice President Richard M. Nixon—but Eisenhower vowed he'll stay neutral both privately and publicly.

—He cannot agree with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko that the stalled Geneva conference of foreign ministers has made any progress that justifies a summit meeting. The Soviet Union still must prove by deeds, Eisenhower said, that it wants a summit session to further world peace.

—This country will not try to pacify the unrest and uprising in Central America; it is up to the Organization of American States to take whatever action is needed.

More Talks With Kazlon

—He expected some more serious talks here with visiting Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov — more serious, that is, than the nonpolitical words they exchanged at the opening of the Soviet national exhibition in New York Monday.

The question whether the White House will intervene again in the deadlocked steel wage dispute, if that seems necessary to head off the strike threatened July 15, never got asked.

Despite his hands-off policy in labor-management conflict, Eisenhower last week obtained a two-week delay for further bargaining. Several reporters tried to get the question in Wednesday, but Eisenhower's nod always went to someone else.

Laughter greeted the first question: Whether, in spite of his rule against discussing personalities, he would give his formula for "43 years of successful marriage."

Grinning, Eisenhower said he had no formula, but could state it was a happy experience.

"A successful marriage, I think gets happier as the years go by, that's about all," he added.

Luebke, Picked By Adenauer, Wins Election

BERLIN (AP) — Heinrich Luebke, the hand-picked candidate of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, was elected president of West Germany Wednesday.

The election by the 1,038-member Electoral College went off without incident despite the threats and protests of the Communists. The Reds had warned that holding the convention in West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, was a dangerous affront to East Germany.

The voting demonstrated that the 83-year-old Chancellor, despite recent grumbling over his whip-cracking tactics, was still very much in command of his ruling Christian Democrat party.

The 64-year-old Luebke, a short-wiry man little known except for his record as agriculture minister for the past six years, was elevated to the ceremonial presidential job on the second ballot. He ran up 526 votes, six more than needed.

Carlo Schmid, the scholarly 62-year-old Socialist candidate, was second with 386. Max Becker of the Free Democrats received 99.

The first ballot followed party lines, with Luebke polling 517 votes, one vote more than there were Christian Democrats in the electoral body. Schmid got 385 and Becker 104.

More than a score abstained on each ballot.

The Socialists and Free Democrats had hoped to slip one of their candidates in if any substantial number of Christian Democrats bolted on the secret ballot.

A winning candidate needed 520 votes, an absolute majority, on the first or second ballots. Had a third ballot been necessary, the candidate with the most votes would have won.

Senate Group Restores Funds For Atom Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Appropriations subcommittee Wednesday about - faced on a House action and approved funds for the Navy to build its second big nuclear-powered aircraft carrier. It would cost 380 million dollars.

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), manager of the Pentagon's annual money bill in the Senate, told reporters the subcommittee made the decision in a closed-door session.

The House had knocked out all carrier funds. Chavez said the subcommittee decided to approve a nuclear-powered one even though top Navy officials had said they would be happy to get a carrier with conventional power.

The Navy's first atomic-powered carrier, the 80,000-ton, four-reactor Enterprise, is now under construction at Newport News, Va. It is scheduled for delivery in 1961 at a cost of 393 million dollars.

The House, in passing a bill authorizing nearly 39 billion dollars in defense spending during the year starting July 1, had denied 260 million dollars asked to start a conventional-powered carrier. Instead it voted about 255 million dollars to increase the Navy's antisubmarine forces.

Chavez said the Senate subcommittee knocked out the antisubmarine funds, restored the carrier money and added 120 million dollars to give it nuclear power.

The subcommittee also restored part of the 1 per cent cut voted by the House in operating and maintenance funds for all the services, he added.

Both Leaders Reportedly Stand Firm

Khrushchev Aide Continues To Plug Friendship Theme

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower met with Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov Wednesday amid signs the visiting Soviet leader stuck to the Kremlin demands the Western Allies get out of Berlin.

Eisenhower and other administration leaders were reported standing just as firmly on their pledge to remain in the Communist-encircled city.

Eisenhower and Kozlov reviewed the East-West deadlock in a confidential 70-minute talk in the President's White House office.

Neither disclosed afterward exactly what they discussed. The grinning, 50-year-old Kozlov, a trusted confidante of Premier Nikita Khrushchev, described the meeting as wonderful.

In a booming voice, he told some 100 newsmen only that peace dominated the talk.

Kozlov brushed aside further questions.

Despite the official silence, word spread that Kozlov and Eisenhower had discussed the crisis over Berlin — and that neither had budged. An administration official said privately a possible summit conference also figured in the talks.

Only an hour before Kozlov called, Eisenhower told a news conference he would spurn any idea of a summit conference unless the Soviets offer enough advance concessions to insure a successful outcome.

Eisenhower was believed to have hewed to this line in talking with Kozlov. In discussing it beforehand, he called for "progress through deeds" at the deadlocked Geneva foreign ministers conference before he would go to a summit parley.

The Geneva talks have been recessed while both sides review their positions. They are due to resume July 13.

Kozlov, who has been plugging a peace and friendship theme since he arrived in this country three days ago, started off his fast-moving round of appointments by meeting with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Kozlov may get a second chance to talk with Herter later, the State Dept. said, if such a meeting is desired after he completes his 10-day coast-to-coast tour. Kozlov is due to leave for San Francisco Friday.

Nixon Gives Frol Lesson In History

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon Wednesday night took on Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov in a rough and tumble foreign policy debate. Before it ended the Soviet leader conceded he was wrong in claiming the United States made the Soviet Union pay for starvation relief after World War I.

The unexpected exchange took place at a formal diplomatic reception sponsored by Nixon in the President's guest house. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter at one point joined Nixon in giving Kozlov a lesson in history.

Nixon and Herter joined forces in a frank give and take with a slightly shaken Kozlov as perspiring guests, including newsmen, eavesdropped, and a Marine band played sweet music.

Kozlov, it was learned, had complained a few hours earlier to President Eisenhower that the American attitude toward the U.S.S.R. was reflected in U.S. relief shipments to the Soviet Union just after the Bolsheviks took power over 40 years ago.

The United States at that time forced the Soviet Union to pay in gold for the food needed to fend off famine, he claimed.

But when the argument ended Kozlov had conceded there was no dispute that the United States shipments of food for starving Russians represented an outright gift approved by Congress.

Teamsters Local Officials Linked To Dope Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal agent Wednesday linked officials of a New York Teamsters Union local with narcotics peddling.

Ivan Wurms, a government narcotics investigator, told the Senate rackets probers he bought $2,400 worth of cocaine from Bernard Blaustein, a business agent of Local 805.

This happened in February 1956, Wurms said, while he was building a case against Blaustein. The union business agent later was given a three-year jail term on narcotics charges and now is out on a conditional release, Wurms said.

The federal agent testified that Blaustein used the local's office on Broadway as a base for narcotics operations.

Wurms also swore he knows of frequent contacts between "purveyors of narcotics" and Abe Gordon and Milton Holt, top officials of the same New York local.

Gordon is administrator of Local 805's welfare fund. There was testimony that the welfare fund bought land in Upstate New York from a cousin of Gordon, paying $85,000 for a tract assessed at $25,000. The committee also heard that $8,019 of the welfare fund's money found its way into Gordon's personal bank account.

As for Holt, committee investigator George Kopecki testified about "rather devious" deals dating back to October 1957 in which he said Holt borrowed $243,000 to finance investments. Kopecki said the loans — some of them without interest or security —came from executives of New York firms with which the union bargains, or with the help of these executives.

After receiving this testimony, Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said it was further evidence that Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa has no intention to "clean up the union and get rid of these elements that are a disgrace to organized labor."

Four Children Hurt In Gunpowder Blast

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP) — Explosion of a glass jar of gunpowder injured four children Wednesday.

Fairfax County Fire Marshal Willis Burton said the youngsters were using the gunpowder to fire a toy cannon.

The injured, all of the Springfield area, are Eric Lowenhaupt, 8; William Vought, 12; Gary Spanke, 13, and his sister, Carol, 3.

The Lowenhaupt and Vought children were taken to Alexandria Hospital where they were treated for burns, minor cuts and bruises, and released. The Spanke children were treated by a private physician.

250 Feared Dead In Colombia Flood

IBAGUE, Colombia (UPI)—Authorities estimated Wednesday that at least 250 persons perished in a flash flood which destroyed three central Colombian riverside towns without warning Tuesday.

At least 130 persons were known dead and scores were missing. Authorities in this provincial capital, barely 10 miles from the scene of the worst damage, said the exact number of lives taken by the rampaging Combeima River might never be known.

Brazil Reports Attack On Sub

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The Brazilian navy reported it bombarded an unidentified submarine in the Atlantic Ocean off Rio Wednesday. It said there was no certainty that a submarine was hit.

A diplomatic source said it was very unlikely that a friendly submarine would be in these waters. He said there are no United States submarines in the South Atlantic at this time.

Last May 29, the U.S. Navy said it had investigated a report of the sighting of an unidentified submarine in the Gulf of Mexico. It did not say what, if anything, had been turned up by the investigation.

In May 1958, both Brazilian and Argentine navy units reported suspected submarines in waters off their coasts. Argentine warships at that time made a depth charge attack off the southern coast of Argentina and later reported sighting an oil slick. Subsesequent official announcements, however, cast doubt on speculation that a sub might have been sunk or damaged and there was no further report on the reported underwater craft.

Physicist Wins 18-Year Fight For Invention Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—A University of California physicist Wednesday won an 18-year fight for payment for an invention that helped U.S. planes and ships hide from enemy radar in two wars and is still in use.

The Defense Department announced the settlement with Vienna-born Dr. Otto Halpern for $340,000. Under terms of the agreement, the scientist relinquished all rights to his development of a material and method for absorbing electromagnetic radiation.

Halpern, now residing in Pacific Palisades, Calif., got the idea for his invention in 1941 when assistant professor of physics at New York University.

He informed the U.S. Navy of his theories, got them accepted and then joined a team working at the radiation laboratory at Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he developed his invention—largely on his own time. The Navy used Halpern's concept throughout the remainder of World War II. Since then the U.S. Air Force has adopted his idea to increase the ability of its planes to avoid detection by unfriendly radar. It was used during the Korean War.

During World War II the Navy, though using the Halpern devices, paid him nothing. When Halpern sought to patent his invention at the end of the war the government held that granting a patent would make his secret processes public.

In 1952, Halpern attempted to get a cash settlement from the Navy. He was offered $50,000 but rejected it as too little and turned to the courts.

Parliamentary Showdown Won By Ben-Gurion

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion won a showdown test in Parliament Wednesday on the government's decision to sell arms to West Germany, the hottest domestic issue in Israel's short existence.

Despite bitter Israeli hatred of the Germans for their mass extermination of the Jews, Parliament voted 57-45 against a motion to cancel the contract to sell 250,000 Israeli-made grenade launchers to West Germany. Six deputies abstained.

The next step for the 72-year-old Prime Minister, who has guided Israel for most of its 11 years, is to purge his coalition Cabinet of ministers from the two parties opposing the arms deal. To do this, Ben-Gurion will resign and form a new Cabinet without them.

Any new government would serve only until this fall. Parliamentary elections are due in November.

The time of Ben-Gurion's expected resignation is uncertain. An official source said it might not come for a few days.

The government's confidence vote was lighter than usual. The vote that installed the four-part coalition a year ago was 76-33. The difference was due to the loss of 19 votes from the left-wing Achduth Avodah (Unity of Labor) and Mapam (United Workers). Ben-Gurion has led the government with the support of those two parties, the Progressives and his own Mapai (Labor).

Ben-Gurion argued that the sale of arms to West Germany is necessary to keep the nation's infant arms industry in operation. The Cabinet approved the deal last Friday by a divided vote.

Three Plants Hit As 25,000 Stay Off Job

Union Orders Men Back; 7,000 Return At Morrisville, Pa.

By The Associated Press

A sudden wave of strikes, several of them unauthorized, idled upward of 30,000 workers across the country Wednesday.

Wildcat walkouts in the steel industry accounted for about 25,000 workers who stayed off the job in three steel plants despite an agreement to extend their contract to July 14. Later, however, some 7,000 called off the strike at one plant.

The strikes erupted as negotiators for the United Steelworkers of America and 12 major steel firms strove in New York to reach an agreement on a new contract. The old contract would have expired at midnight Tuesday.

The union termed the strikes unauthorized and directed the workers to return to their jobs.

About 7,000 workers at U.S. Steel Corp.'s big Fairless works at Morrisville, Pa., acceded to the union's demands and called off the work stoppage they had engineered earlier.

13,000 Idle At Aliquippa, Pa.

But wildcat strikes continued at two other steel plants.

Around 13,000 production workers were idled at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. plant in Aliquippa, Pa. Pickets displayed placards proclaiming "no contract—no work."

In Cleveland, some 2,700 day shift workers struck at Republic Steel Corp.'s Independence Road plant, forcing the shutdown of two open hearths. The firm employs around 9,300 production workers on three shifts.

A company spokesman said the plant would be shut down completely if succeeding shifts stayed off the job.

In another phase of the steel picture, some 3,700 Great Lakes sailors began leaving their jobs on iron ore carriers at various ports. The seamen are members of the Steelworkers Union. They transport raw material to steel mills.

Seamen's Strike Authorized

The seamen's strike was sanctioned by Local 5000 of the USW, with headquarters in Cleveland. Officials of the local said it was not a party to the contract extension in the basic steel industry, although its members are covered by the over-all agreement.

Elsewhere, the Public Service Co. of Indiana was hit by a strike of some 1,400 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in a contract dispute. The utility serves the southern two-thirds of the state. Company officials said there would be no interruption of service to its 360,000 customers despite the walkout.

Another contract dispute idled 2,500 production workers at Cessna Aircraft Co. in Wichita, Kan. The strikers walked out of the plant after their contract expired and while union and management negotiators were striving to reach a new agreement.

Miss Maryland Gives Up Title

BALTIMORE (AP)—A statuesque blonde who stands 5-9 gave up her Miss Maryland title after a reign of only 4½ days Wednesday because she didn't want to try for more starry heights.

"Since the excitement has died down, I don't desire a very glamorous career," said 25-year-old Marie Litz.

The right to represent Maryland in the Miss Universe contest at Long Beach, Calif., went to the runner-up in the state contest, 24-year-old Diane White, a brunette who's only 5-4½.

Both women are secretaries. Miss Litz, who measures 36-24-36, is a divorcee but said that had nothing to do with her decision.

Sponsors here said being divorced was no bar to entering the Miss Universe contest. The West Coast event was thrown into turmoil two years ago when Miss Maryland, Leona Gage Ennis, turned out to be a Mrs. with two children after winning the Miss U. S. A. title.

Miss Litz also said she didn't want to "deprive Diane of an opportunity to go into the movies or theater."

Miss White, whose vital statistics are 35½-24-36, was overjoyed.

"I still can't believe it," she cooed. "I wanted to be Miss Maryland so badly and still do."

The new beauty queen will fly to California July 15.

Eisenhower and other administration leaders were reported standing just as firmly on their pledge to remain in the Communist-encircled city.

Eisenhower and Kozlov reviewed the East-West deadlock in a confidential 70-minute talk in the President's White House office.

Neither disclosed afterward exactly what they discussed. The grinning, 50-year-old Kozlov, a trusted confidante of Premier Nikita Khrushchev, described the meeting as wonderful.

In a booming voice, he told some 100 newsmen only that peace dominated the talk.

Kozlov brushed aside further questions.

Despite the official silence, word spread that Kozlov and Eisenhower had discussed the crisis over Berlin — and that neither had budged. An administration official said privately a possible summit conference also figured in the talks.

Only an hour before Kozlov called, Eisenhower told a news conference he would spurn any idea of a summit conference unless the Soviets offer enough advance concessions to insure a successful outcome.

Eisenhower was believed to have hewed to this line in talking with Kozlov. In discussing it beforehand, he called for "progress through deeds" at the deadlocked Geneva foreign ministers conference before he would go to a summit parley.

The Geneva talks have been recessed while both sides review their positions. They are due to resume July 13.

Kozlov, who has been plugging a peace and friendship theme since he arrived in this country three days ago, started off his fast-moving round of appointments by meeting with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Kozlov may get a second chance to talk with Herter later, the State Dept. said, if such a meeting is desired after he completes his 10-day coast-to-coast tour. Kozlov is due to leave for San Francisco Friday.

Nixon Gives Frol Lesson In History

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon Wednesday night took on Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov in a rough and tumble foreign policy debate. Before it ended the Soviet leader conceded he was wrong in claiming the United States made the Soviet Union pay for starvation relief after World War I.

The unexpected exchange took place at a formal diplomatic reception sponsored by Nixon in the President's guest house. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter at one point joined Nixon in giving Kozlov a lesson in history.

Nixon and Herter joined forces in a frank give and take with a slightly shaken Kozlov as perspiring guests, including newsmen, eavesdropped, and a Marine band played sweet music.

Kozlov, it was learned, had complained a few hours earlier to President Eisenhower that the American attitude toward the U.S.S.R. was reflected in U.S. relief shipments to the Soviet Union just after the Bolsheviks took power over 40 years ago.

The United States at that time forced the Soviet Union to pay in gold for the food needed to fend off famine, he claimed.

But when the argument ended Kozlov had conceded there was no dispute that the United States shipments of food for starving Russians represented an outright gift approved by Congress.

Maryland Beauty Queen Abdicates

Maryland's entry in the Miss Universe contest at Long Beach, Calif., Marie Litz (right), turns over her tiara and trophy to Diane White after reigning as Miss Maryland only 4½ days. The 5-9 blonde said she wasn't interested in "a very glamorous career" and didn't want to deprive someone of the chance to go into the movies or theater. Miss White was state runnerup. (Story below)

Teamsters Local Officials Linked To Dope Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal agent Wednesday linked officials of a New York Teamsters Union local with narcotics peddling.

Ivan Wurms, a government narcotics investigator, told the Senate rackets probers he bought $2,400 worth of cocaine from Bernard Blaustein, a business agent of Local 805.

This happened in February 1956, Wurms said, while he was building a case against Blaustein. The union business agent later was given a three-year jail term on narcotics charges and now is out on a conditional release, Wurms said.

The federal agent testified that Blaustein used the local's office on Broadway as a base for narcotics operations.

Wurms also swore he knows of frequent' contacts between "purveyors of narcotics" and Abe Gordon and Milton Holt, top officials of the same New York local.

Gordon is administrator of Local 805's welfare fund. There was testimony that the welfare fund bought land in Upstate New York from a cousin of Gordon, paying $85,000 for a tract assessed at $25,000. The committee also heard that $8,019 of the welfare fund's money found its way into Gordon's personal bank account.

As for Holt, committee investigator George Kopecki testified about "rather devious" deals dating back to October 1957 in which he said Holt borrowed $243,000 to finance investments. Kopecki said the loans — some of them without interest or security —came from executives of New York firms with which the union bargains, or with the help of these executives.

After receiving this testimony, Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said it was further evidence that Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa has no intention to "clean up the union and get rid of these elements that are a disgrace to organized labor."

Four Children Hurt In Gunpowder Blast

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP) — Explosion of a glass jar of gunpowder injured four children Wednesday.

Fairfax County Fire Marshal Willis Burton said the youngsters were using the gunpowder to fire a toy cannon.

The injured, all of the Springfield area, are Eric Lowenhaupt, 8; William Vought, 12; Gary Spanke, 13, and his sister, Carol, 3.

The Lowenhaupt and Vought children were taken to Alexandria Hospital where they were treated for burns, minor cuts and bruises, and released. The Spanke children were treated by a private physician.

250 Feared Dead In Colombia Flood

IBAGUE, Colombia (UPI)—Authorities estimated Wednesday that at least 250 persons perished in a flash flood which destroyed three central Colombian riverside towns without warning Tuesday.

At least 130 persons were known dead and scores were missing. Authorities in this provincial capital, barely 10 miles from the scene of the worst damage, said the exact number of lives taken by the rampaging Combeima River might never be known.

Brazil Reports Attack On Sub

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The Brazilian navy reported it bombarded an unidentified submarine in the Atlantic Ocean off Rio Wednesday. It said there was no certainty that a submarine was hit.

A diplomatic source said it was very unlikely that a friendly submarine would be in these waters. He said there are no United States submarines in the South Atlantic at this time.

Last May 29, the U.S. Navy said it had investigated a report of the sighting of an unidentified submarine in the Gulf of Mexico. It did not say what, if anything, had been turned up by the investigation.

In May 1958, both Brazilian and Argentine navy units reported suspected submarines in waters off their coasts. Argentine warships at that time made a depth charge attack off the southern coast of Argentina and later reported sighting an oil slick. Subsequent official announcements, however, cast doubt on speculation that a sub might have been sunk or damaged and there was no further report on the reported underwater craft.

Physicist Wins 18-Year Fight For Invention Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—A University of California physicist Wednesday won an 18-year fight for payment for an invention that helped U.S. planes and ships hide from enemy radar in two wars and is still in use.

The Defense Department announced the settlement with Vienna-born Dr. Otto Halpern for $340,000. Under terms of the agreement, the scientist relinquished all rights to his development of a material and method for absorbing electromagnetic radiation.

Halpern, now residing in Pacific Palisades, Calif., got the idea for his invention in 1941 when assistant professor of physics at New York University.

He informed the U.S. Navy of his theories, got them accepted and then joined a team working at the radiation laboratory at Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he developed his invention—largely on his own time. The Navy used Halpern's concept throughout the remainder of World War II. Since then the U.S. Air Force has adopted his idea to increase the ability of its planes to avoid detection by unfriendly radar. It was used during the Korean War.

During World War II the Navy, though using the Halpern devices, paid him nothing. When Halpern sought to patent his invention at the end of the war the government held that granting a patent would make his secret processes public.

In 1952, Halpern attempted to get a cash settlement from the Navy. He was offered $50,000 but rejected it as too little and turned to the courts.

Parliamentary Showdown Won By Ben-Gurion

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion won a showdown test in Parliament Wednesday on the government's decision to sell arms to West Germany, the hottest domestic issue in Israel's short existence.

Despite bitter Israeli hatred of the Germans for their mass extermination of the Jews, Parliament voted 57-45 against a motion to cancel the contract to sell 250,000 Israeli-made grenade launchers to West Germany. Six deputies abstained.

The next step for the 72-year-old Prime Minister, who has guided Israel for most of its 11 years, is to purge his coalition Cabinet of ministers from the two parties opposing the arms deal. To do this, Ben-Gurion will resign and form a new Cabinet without them.

Any new government would serve only until this fall. Parliamentary elections are due in November.

The time of Ben-Gurion's expected resignation is uncertain. An official source said it might not come for a few days.

The government's confidence vote was lighter than usual. The vote that installed the four-part coalition a year ago was 76-33. The difference was due to the loss of 19 votes from the left-wing Achduth Avodah (Unity of Labor) and Mapam (United Workers). Ben-Gurion has led the government with the support of those two parties, the Progressives and his own Mapai (Labor).

Ben-Gurion argued that the sale of arms to West Germany is necessary to keep the nation's infant arms industry in operation. The Cabinet approved the deal last Friday by a divided vote.

Three Plants Hit As 25,000 Stay Off Job

Union Orders Men Back; 7,000 Return At Morrisville, Pa.

By The Associated Press

A sudden wave of strikes, several of them unauthorized, idled upward of 30,000 workers across the country Wednesday.

Wildcat walkouts in the steel industry accounted for about 25,000 workers who stayed off the job in three steel plants despite an agreement to extend their contract to July 14. Later, however, some 7,000 called off the strike at one plant.

The strikes erupted as negotiators for the United Steelworkers of America and 12 major steel firms strove in New York to reach an agreement on a new contract. The old contract would have expired at midnight Tuesday.

The union termed the strikes unauthorized and directed the workers to return to their jobs.

About 7,000 workers at U.S. Steel Corp.'s big Fairless works at Morrisville, Pa., acceded to the union's demands and called off the work stoppage they had engineered earlier.

13,000 Idle At Aliquippa, Pa.

But wildcat strikes continued at two other steel plants.

Around 13,000 production workers were idled at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. plant in Aliquippa, Pa. Pickets displayed placards proclaiming "no contract—no work."

In Cleveland, some 2,700 day shift workers struck at Republic Steel Corp.'s Independence Road plant, forcing the shutdown of two open hearths. The firm employs around 9,300 production workers on three shifts.

A company spokesman said the plant would be shut down completely if succeeding shifts stayed off the job.

In another phase of the steel picture, some 3,700 Great Lakes sailors began leaving their jobs on iron ore carriers at various ports. The seamen are members of the Steelworkers Union. They transport raw material to steel mills.

Seamen's Strike Authorized

The seamen's strike was sanctioned by Local 5000 of the USW, with headquarters in Cleveland. Officials of the local said it was not a party to the contract extension in the basic steel industry, although its members are covered by the over-all agreement.

Elsewhere, the Public Service Co. of Indiana was hit by a strike of some 1,400 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in a contract dispute. The utility serves the southern two-thirds of the state. Company officials said there would be no interruption of service to its 360,000 customers despite the walkout.

Another contract dispute idled 2,500 production workers at Cessna Aircraft Co. in Wichita, Kan. The strikers walked out of the plant after their contract expired and while union and management negotiators were striving to reach a new agreement.

Miss Maryland Gives Up Title

BALTIMORE (AP)—A statuesque blonde who stands 5-9 gave up her Miss Maryland title after a reign of only 4½ days Wednesday because she didn't want to try for more starry heights.

"Since the excitement has died down, I don't desire a very glamorous career," said 25-year-old Marie Litz.

The right to represent Maryland in the Miss Universe contest at Long Beach, Calif., went to the runner-up in the state contest, 24-year-old Diane White, a brunette who's only 5-4½.

Both women are secretaries. Miss Litz, who measures 36-24-36, is a divorcee but said that had nothing to do with her decision.

Sponsors here said being divorced was no bar to entering the Miss Universe contest. The West Coast event was thrown into turmoil two years ago when Miss Maryland, Leona Gage Ennis, turned out to be a Mrs. with two children after winning the Miss U. S. A. title.

Miss Litz also said she didn't want to "deprive Diane of an opportunity to go into the movies or theater."

Miss White, whose vital statistics are 35½-24-36, was overjoyed.

"I still can't believe it," she cooed. "I wanted to be Miss Maryland so badly and still do."

The new beauty queen will fly to California July 15.

Resigned Cuban Air Chief Disappears

Military Command Feud Out In Open

HAVANA (AP) — A bitter feud within Cuba's military high command came into the open Wednesday with the disappearance of the air force commander who resigned with a charge that Communists infiltrate the armed forces.

The Castro regime said it wants to bring Maj. Pedro Luiz Diaz Lanz to trial.

Almeida accused his predecessor of treason, desertion, robbery and dealings with members of the deposed Batista dictatorship.

Almeida said Diaz Lanz faces trial before a revolutionary court. The new air force chief, who is not a flier, added that others have been arrested as a result of Diaz Lanz' defection.

Diaz Lanz' mother told newsmen she has no information on the whereabouts of her son or of his two brothers who served with him in the air force. Diaz Lanz' bride of a few months also was missing.

Other sources said they believed Diaz Lanz has fled the country.

Those in close touch with revolutionary military affairs described the charges and countercharges as the climax of a contest between Diaz Lanz and Raul Castro, who commands Cuba's armed forces.

They said the dispute involves charges by Diaz Lanz that Raul Castro is trying to gain control of the air force and introduce leftist indoctrination courses.

The two Castro brothers conferred Wednesday on an answer to Diaz Lanz' letter of resignation. At a news conference Raul spoke bitterly of his former air chief, calling him a sissy and a latecomer to the revolution. Raul described the whole thing as a tempest in a teapot.

Marylanders Are Outfished By Virginians

SOLOMONS, Md. (AP) — Virginians, though fewer in number, outfished Marylanders 13,940,000 pounds to 1,258,000 pounds in commercial fishing in the Potomac River last year.

That's the report of Maryland's Department of Research and Education on a survey recently completed of fish catches in the river for 1958.

It was the first year comparable catch records were available, since Maryland licensed all of the fishermen. Included in the survey were 106 Virginians holding commercial fishing licenses and 185 Marylanders. Prior to Maryland's abrogation of the Potomac River Compact in 1957 each state licensed its own.

Findings of the survey are reported in the Maryland Tidewater News, published at the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory here.

Disparity of the catches was attributed mainly to the large menhaden and alewife fishery in Virginia. These industrial fish, used in reduction plants and canneries, are not sought in large quantities by Marylanders.

But throwing out these two species the 108 Virginia fishermen still landed 1½ times more fish than Maryland's 185 commercial fishermen on the Potomac, the Tidewater News says.

Elizabeth Notes Dominion Day

OTTAWA (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II in a nationwide television-radio speech Wednesday hailed Canada on Dominion Day, its independence day.

Hatless and in an informal garden setting on the sunny veranda of Government House, the Queen declared that the Commonwealth of Nations, of which Canada is a founder member, "is no mere sentimental organization but a vigorous association for cooperation and mutual help of the widest scale.

She noted there was controversy and fighting in the early history of Canada and said: "Today we have achieved a unity and sense of common purpose which is a tribute to good sense and tolerance."

Elizabeth, on a six-week royal tour of Canada as its queen, had no engagements in the morning. But it was a long day of ceremonies, nevertheless, ending with a late evening formal dinner at Government House, 60-room mansion home of Gov. Gen. Vincent Massey, the Queen's home when she is here.

Dominion Day commemorates the birth of Canada as a nation in 1867 when it became the first independent country within the British empire.

Most Teachers Have No Time To Call Own

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Public school teachers can smoke, drop into the local bar, or spend a weekend in the big city. But most of them have too many pupils, too many chores, and no time to call their own.

This composite picture of the classroom teacher was drawn Wednesday by Dr. Kenneth R. Brown, director of a six-month investigation into the working conditions of teachers and school administrators.

"School people have made tremendous gains in personal freedom over the past 20 years," Brown said. "This is especially true in the big cities. In some small communities and rural areas they still find restrictions on their personal lives."

Brown will present his findings to the annual convention of the National Education Assn. Thursday. They came from 2,200 replies to questionnaires sent last January to 6,500 school people.

"Almost 70 per cent of the grade school and junior high teachers and 60 per cent of the high school teachers thought they could do their best work with 25 students in a class," Brown told a news conference. The national average is a bit over 30.

After class size, the teachers said their biggest problem was the pupil who won't or can't learn, for whatever reason.

The teachers also said they had too many housekeeping and secretarial jobs, Brown said, and too many after-school chores like directing clubs and meeting parents.

New Owners Put MBS In Bankruptcy

NEW YORK (AP)—New owners took over the Mutual Broadcasting System Wednesday, and promptly put it into bankruptcy under a plan to pay off old debts while it continues operating.

The network, which broadcasts programs to 425 affiliated stations across the country, listed its liabilities at $3,195,207 and its assets at $579,607.

Robert F. Hurleigh, a Washington newscaster who became president with control of all Mutual's stock, said in the petition for bankruptcy that the network's "volume of business was too low for its cost of operations."

He said a vigorous sales program has been launched to build up business, and that increased income will be used to "work out a program with its creditors" if the network is allowed to continue in business.

Economic Development Commission To Meet

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Maryland's new Economic Development Commission will hold its first meeting at noon July 7 in the Baltimore office of Gov. Tawes, it was announced Tuesday.

The 12-member commission was created by the 1959 Legislature to promote industrial development and tourism in the state. It absorbed the Department of Information, which Earle R. Poorbaugh headed, and will enlarge on industrial development functions formerly assigned to the State Planning Commission.

One of the first tasks facing the new commission is appointment of a fulltime director.

Hospital Administration Challenged By Doctors

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — All 19 doctors and dentists in the Cambridge area Wednesday took legal action against the chief administrator of the Cambridge Maryland Hospital.

The 10-page petition filed in Circuit court in effect challenges the competency and direction of Administrator Harold P. Coston. The doctors contend he is interfering with proper medical routine of the hospital.

The directors and Coston immediately filed a 27-page answer defending themselves and Coston, and praising the administrator for improving the standing and functions of the hospital, the only one in Dorchester County.

The formal complaint asked the court to prevent the directors from closing the hospital. Chief Circuit Judge W. Laird Henry Jr. ordered the directors and Coston to show cause at an Aug. 3 hearing why an injunction should not be issued preventing them from closing the hospital doors.

Closing the hospital would be the most extreme act within the power of the directors so the doctors and dentists are moving against this technicality. Actual closing is considered unlikely.

Coston, a 1952 graduate of the Johns Hopkins University with a masters degree in public health, came to the Cambridge hospital in 1953 after serving briefly with the Lutheran Hospital in Baltimore.

The directors said in its answer that they had specifically requested Coston to improve the hospital's standing to obtain accreditation and that he had done that.

David Fisher Heads New SRC Division

BALTIMORE (AP)— Chairman John B. Funk of the State Roads Commission announced Wednesday the appointment of David H. Fisher as director of the newly-organized division of administrative services.

Fisher, 45, has been chief of the bureau of engineering of the Baltimore County Department of Public Works since 1955.

Fisher, a resident of Towson, is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and served with the Army Corps of Engineers during World War II. He headed the civil engineering section of the State Department of Public Improvements from 1949 until 1951, when he joined the Baltimore County agency.

Warships of the United States carried figureheads from 1797 to 1909.

2,200 Rockfish Tags Worth $1 Each

SOLOMONS, Md. (AP) — The Chesapeake Biological Laboratory is asking fishermen in the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay to be on the lookout for 2,200 rockfish tagged in the Potomac this year.

They're being used in a study of migratory habits of striped bass being conducted by the laboratory in cooperation with the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

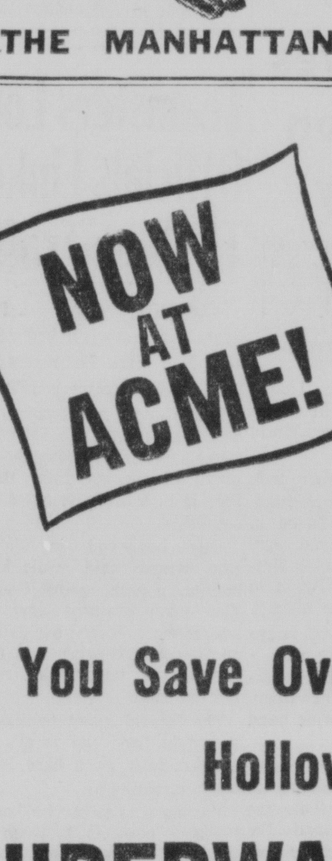

Each fish carries a yellow plastic oval disk attached with nylon thread to the hind part of its back. A reward of $1 each is offered for the tags which are to be sent with full recapture information to the Beaufort, N. C. laboratory address on the tag.

The tagging project was conducted during winter and spring of 1959 in the Potomac River from its confluence with Chesapeake Bay to the region of Indian Head, about 60 miles upstream.

Most of the fish were two to three pounds although some included female or "cow" rock weighing between 25 and 54 pounds.

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Maryland's new Economic Development Commission will hold its first meeting at noon July 7 in the Baltimore office of Gov. Tawes, it was announced Tuesday.

The 12-member commission was created by the 1959 Legislature to promote industrial development and tourism in the state. It absorbed the Department of Information, which Earle R. Poorbaugh headed, and will enlarge on industrial development functions formerly assigned to the State Planning Commission.

One of the first tasks facing the new commission is appointment of a fulltime director.

Hospital Administration Challenged By Doctors

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — All 19 doctors and dentists in the Cambridge area Wednesday took legal action against the chief administrator of the Cambridge Maryland Hospital.

The 10-page petition filed in Circuit court in effect challenges the competency and direction of Administrator Harold P. Coston. The doctors contend he is interfering with proper medical routine of the hospital.

The directors and Coston immediately filed a 27-page answer defending themselves and Coston, and praising the administrator for improving the standing and functions of the hospital, the only one in Dorchester County.

The formal complaint asked the court to prevent the directors from closing the hospital. Chief Circuit Judge W. Laird Henry Jr. ordered the directors and Coston to show cause at an Aug. 3 hearing why an injunction should not be issued preventing them from closing the hospital doors.

Closing the hospital would be the most extreme act within the power of the directors so the doctors and dentists are moving against this technicality. Actual closing is considered unlikely.

Coston, a 1952 graduate of the Johns Hopkins University with a masters degree in public health, came to the Cambridge hospital in 1953 after serving briefly with the Lutheran Hospital in Baltimore.

The directors said in its answer that they had specifically requested Coston to improve the hospital's standing to obtain accreditation and that he had done that.

David Fisher Heads New SRC Division

BALTIMORE (AP)— Chairman John B. Funk of the State Roads Commission announced Wednesday the appointment of David H. Fisher as director of the newly-organized division of administrative services.

Fisher, 45, has been chief of the bureau of engineering of the Baltimore County Department of Public Works since 1955.

Fisher, a resident of Towson, is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and served with the Army Corps of Engineers during World War II. He headed the civil engineering section of the State Department of Public Improvements from 1949 until 1951, when he joined the Baltimore County agency.

Warships of the United States carried figureheads from 1797 to 1909.

2,200 Rockfish Tags Worth $1 Each

SOLOMONS, Md. (AP) — The Chesapeake Biological Laboratory is asking fishermen in the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay to be on the lookout for 2,200 rockfish tagged in the Potomac this year.

They're being used in a study of migratory habits of striped bass being conducted by the laboratory in cooperation with the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

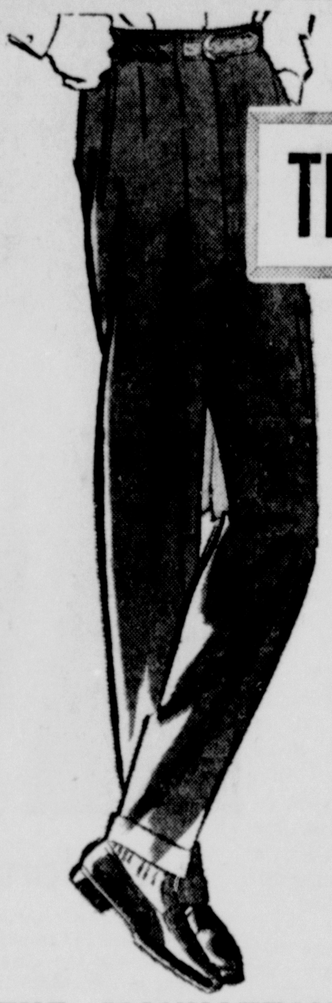

Each fish carries a yellow plastic oval disk attached with nylon thread to the hind part of its back. A reward of $1 each is offered for the tags which are to be sent with full recapture information to the Beaufort, N. C. laboratory address on the tag.

The tagging project was conducted during winter and spring of 1959 in the Potomac River from its confluence with Chesapeake Bay to the region of Indian Head, about 60 miles upstream.

Most of the fish were two to three pounds although some included female or "cow" rock weighing between 25 and 54 pounds.

Maryland State Agencies Mark "New Year's Day"

BALTIMORE (AP) — Wednesday was New Year's Day for Maryland's state agencies and departments.

This was the first day of the 1960 fiscal year, a 12-month period used by financial experts in calculating the state's annual operating budget.

This also was the day in which a number of new state agencies, including the Departments of Economic Development and Assessments and Taxes and the State Tax Court, began functioning. These agencies were created by the 1959 General Assembly.

The Maryland budget for fiscal 1960 is again a record, with state officials authorized to spend $448,374,802 during the coming 12 months.

During the fiscal year that ended Tuesday the state government was allocated $395,591,824.

Funds set aside in the new budget for general fund expenditures, those expenditures balanced by general taxes, total 17 million dollars more than in the 1959 budget.

The increase would have been higher by $2,700,000 had not the General Assembly this year rejected Gov. Tawes' request for higher salaries for public school teachers.

Included in the 1960 budget is $25,000 for the Ocean City airport. This is a tentative figure and the money will not be spent unless Ocean City matches the amount appropriated by Worcester County.

Beall Protests Atomic Waste Disposal Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. Glenn Beall of Maryland doesn't want waters off Maryland's coastal resorts and near the mouth of Chesapeake Bay used as a dumping ground for radioactive waste.

Beall wrote to the Atomic Energy Commission protesting the reported consideration of the areas for disposal sites.

Rep. Thomas N. Downing of Virginia had reported that three areas off the coast were among 28 possible dumping grounds being studied by the National Research Council's committee on oceanography.

Beall asked the Atomic Energy Commission to look into the matter and asked it to halt any such plans until a thorough study could be made.

Beall said he understood from some sources that the concrete in which the wastes are encased for dumping deteriorates after about 10 years.

Although the dumping may not jeopardize human life, he said, it might harm marine life. Beall added that the psychological effects on people visiting the resorts also might bring serious economic loss to the resort communities.

Dry Spell Hits Maryland Crops

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—The continuing dry spell through much of Maryland began to affect the growth and development of some crops last week, the Crop Reporting Service said Wednesday.

The first picking of apples began this week on the Eastern Shore and should commence in the Hancock area next week, with the peach harvest due to start in about two weeks, the report said.

Despite the lack of rain, however, many crops were holding up surprisingly well. Tobacco and soybeans in southern Maryland appeared to be affected the most.

Barley and oat harvests were about completed on the Shore. About one third of the barley crop had been cut in the north central Maryland area.

Baltimore K-9 Member Goofs

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore's K-9 corps chalked up an error for one of its members Wednesday.

Policeman Charles Clemens and his dog Baron answered a call at a filling station where neighbors reported hearing noises.

As he drove up, Clemens saw a man running and the officer raced his cruiser in pursuit. Then he spotted two men running into an alley.

Clemens stopped and released Baron. One man halted, but the other sped on.

The dog quickly brought the second man to the ground by grabbing him by the left ankle.

The two then told the policeman they were chasing the burglar when the dog got into the act.

Police are still looking for the person who tried to break into the filling station.

D.C. Store Official Attacked, Robbed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A store official was choked, thrown down a flight of stairs, and robbed of an estimated $2,500 Tuesday.

George M. Jacobson, 61, vice president of Larimer's Market, was taken to George Washington University Hospital. He suffered a dislocated shoulder, face cuts and bruises.

Police are seeking a Negro, 23 to 28 years old.

They said Jacobson opened the store early Tuesday and had about reached his second floor office when he was attacked from behind. His assailant held a knife to his throat and ordered him to open the safe.

Police said the robber apparently entered the store from the roof through a ventilating shaft.

6 Alexandria Negroes Seek School Transfer

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Sixteen Negro children are reported to be applying for admission to Stratford Junior High School and three other Arlington white schools.

Their attorney, Otto L. Tucker, said he mailed the applications to the school board. Wednesday was the deadline set by the school board for accepting transfer applications.

The school board has rejected applications of 22 other Negro children who sought transfer to white schools. The 22 were involved in a court suit and the matter is now before Judge Albert V. Bryan of Federal District Court.

Lightning Bolt Kills D.C. Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lightning bolt early Tuesday killed a man seeking to escape the heat in a park.

James B. Butler, about 60, was found lying in front of a bench. The crown of his hat had been sheared off, his left pants leg ripped, and a shoe torn.

The lightning came during an electric storm in the Washington area after two days of extreme heat.

The storm resulted in 21 fire alarms in Montgomery County, Md. There were some damaging fires.

Hundreds of Montgomery County residents were without electrical power for four or five hours after lightning struck electrical equipment of the Potomac Electric Power Co. at Seven Locks Road and MacArthur Boulevard.

Fateful Double-Cross Started 20 Years Ago

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Twenty years ago this week there began one of the most fateful pieces of double-crossing in world history.

Britain and France were trying to arrange with the Soviet Union an entente which would contain Adolf Hitler.

Hitler was so disturbed that he was willing to back away from a combination of policies toward Eastern Europe which the Soviet Union considered a threat.

On June 29 the German ambassador, after some preliminary feelers, went to see Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at the Kremlin.

The U.S. State Department, which published the captured German documents covering the negotiations 20 years ago, has now published American papers throwing additional light.

In retrospect, it's a wonder that Molotov didn't lose his job as the result of these negotiations, instead of hanging on until Joseph Stalin's death to be scuttled eventually by Nikita Khrushchev.

If it was Molotov who became one of the world's slickest diplomats after the war, it was Ribbentrop and his cohorts before the war who taught him many of his lessons.

Molotov was suspicious of the Germans from the start. Germany and the Soviet Union both claimed conflicting spheres of interest in the Baltic states, Poland and the Balkans.

But Hitler and Benito Mussolini were at that very moment planning the acts of aggression which produced World War II.

The Germans told the Soviets flatly that their main policy was directed not at Eastern Europe, but against England.

That should suit the Soviets fine, the Germans said, since the Soviet Union like the Axis was directed against the capitalist states.

If the Soviet Union would go along, accepting coexistence with Japan in the Far East and with Germany in Eastern Europe and the Middle East, then the U.S.S.R. could have its sphere of influence in those areas while Italy and Germany pursued their fortunes elsewhere.

Molotov, Ribbentrop and Stalin got together over what must have been, judging by the number of toasts, a pretty big bottle. They signed a treaty giving Hitler a free hand to start his war.

Molotov's suspicions had given away to avarice. Two years later he and Stalin were so sound asleep they ignored Allied warnings that Hitler was preparing to double-cross the double-crossers.

Paper Demands End To Windsor's Exile

LONDON (UPI)—A newspaper Tuesday demanded an end to the "haunted exile" of the Duke of Windsor from his British homeland and his 22 years of "rudderless wanderings" abroad.

The Daily Sketch said time had healed the wounds caused in 1936 when he gave up the throne to marry Wallis Warfield Simpson, an American divorcee. The duke and duchess now spend most of their time in France and the United States.

Pointing out that the duke will return to Britain for one of his rare, very short visits in a few days, the Sketch said:

"He slips through our midst like a haunted exile, unsure of his welcome, uncertain of his future."

NAACP Case Shifted Again

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — The long struggle over Alabama's $100,000 contempt fine against the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People went back to the U.S. Supreme Court Tuesday.

Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion filed a motion requesting rehearing on the court's order which set the fine aside for the second time.

It was the third trip to the nation's highest tribunal for the case which resulted from the NAACP's refusal to submit its records to the Montgomery County Circuit Court.

The high court in June, 1958, said under the Constitution's guarantee of freedom of association the group's membership list need not be disclosed and that it had statements by both sides that all other data had been produced.

The Alabama Supreme Court then ruled the record did not show the list was the only missing information, and reinstated the fine.

The U.S. court then ruled Alabama had agreed once the membership list was the only disputed matter, and could not change its mind.

New Church Will Have Swim Pool, Snack Bar

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—If the Rev. John E. Weir's new church shocks the public, he'll be happy.

It will include a swimming pool, tennis court, snack bar, an unloading ramp for motorists, and the largest outdoor church bulletin board in the city.

"Too many people think the church is too pious for them and that ministers have lace on their pants," explained the Methodist minister. "That's the kind of thinking I want to break through."

A former carpenter, Rev. Mr. Weir helped design the building expected to be completed in September.

Churchgoers traveling by car will be able to unload on the second-floor level just outside the chapel. The parking lot becomes a playground with a touch of a button.

Concrete slabs open to reveal a 40 by 60 foot swimming pool. Swings and a slide come out of their underground hiding places along with tennis net posts and basketball goal posts.

The snack bar will be attached to the social hall.

"You have to cause kids to want to come to church," the pastor said. "That's the way to combat juvenile delinquency."

The bulletin board will be 16-feet long, 8-feet high, and 4-feet deep. It will include a miniature of the Holy Land, with a mirror on the back of the board reflecting the scene for passing motorists.

How is this possible in a congregation of only 268?

"We're getting it done at rock-bottom cost, thanks to help from labor and management," the pastor said.

A local firm donated $10,700 worth of aluminum and contractors agreed to put up the building at cost (about $135,000).

The church, formerly Davidson Memorial, is getting a new name: St. Peter.

"It's an indication of new thinking," the minister explained. "Protestants may have a hidden prejudice against the name just because the Catholics say he was the first Pope."

Fungi and insects take their toll of seven billion dollars a year in the United States.

'Come To The Fair' Theme For 4-H Dress Review

"Come To the Fair" was chosen as the theme for the annual 4-H dress review, by members of the review committee at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the extension office.

Recordings of circus music will form the background for the review. There will be booths like the carnival section of a fair, and special entertainment is planned. Donna Simpson will be the announcer.

Today is the deadline for entering garments in the review.

It is to be held July 10, in the LaVale Methodist Church hall, beginning at 8 p.m. A rehearsal will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at LaVale.

All friends of 4-H are invited to attend.

Members of the committee are Marlene Clark, Miss Simpson, Patricia King, Charlotte King, Rita Daniels and Jean Robinette.

Auxiliary Will Plan Activities

Various activities and projects will be discussed at the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Post 136, American Legion, Ridgeley tonight. Mrs. Elsie Leighty will conduct the meeting, which will be at 8 o'clock in the post home.

Final plans will be formulated for a clothing drive, for the child welfare work; and the date set for a fish fry.

The fall caravan also will be discussed.

Used houses account for three-fourths of the annual residential sales in the United States.

Lewyn Davis Memorial Given By 1934 Class

A $150 check for the Lewyn C. Davis memorial fund was donated and plans were formulated to furnish a private reading room in his memory at the 25th anniversary reunion of the Allegany High School class of 1934. The reading room will be in the new library of the school. Mr. Davis was class advisor.

Carl Low, Nyack, N.Y., was toastmaster for the dinner dance, held at the Ali Ghan Country Club. Arthur W. Taylor, head of the mathematics department, who retired this year, was guest speaker. A "Trip to the Past" featured the entertainment. The Cavaliers played for dancing.

Town Creek Club Has Reports

For the first time the Town Creek Homemakers Club had one hundred per cent attendance at the meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. Harvey Johnson.

The thought of the month was given by the hostess, and Mrs. Ralph Buser read the collect, and gave the history of the hymn, "Jesus, the Very Thought of Thee," which was sung by the group. Roll call was answered with favorite dishes of the families. They included, chicken and dumplings, Dutch dumplings, fried chicken, fresh fish from the farm pond, and hamburgers, because there are so many ways to fix it.

Mrs. Roy Shryock Sr. told of her trip to Rural Women's Short Course, which was designated as a vacation with education. Mrs. Shryock gave highlights of the address by George Sundborg, assistant to the senator from Alaska, which dealt with the new state; and courses she took on speaking and personality, "arts of living," and bee keeping.

A demonstration on "mixes or mix it yourself" was given by Mrs. Johnson. She used home-made and commercial mixes. The group voted the commercial mix with oil the best in flavor and the most economical.

The next meeting will be July 15 at the home of Mrs. George Reuschel.

Others attending were Mrs. Donald Buser, Mrs. John Leasure, Mrs. Leo Leasure, Mrs. Edgar Matthews, Mrs. Reuschel, Mrs. Albert Slider and Mrs. Ernest Slider.

'Come To The Fair' Theme For 4-H Dress Review

"Come To the Fair" was chosen as the theme for the annual 4-H dress review, by members of the review committee at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the extension office.

Recordings of circus music will form the background for the review. There will be booths like the carnival section of a fair, and special entertainment is planned. Donna Simpson will be the announcer.

Today is the deadline for entering garments in the review.

It is to be held July 10, in the LaVale Methodist Church hall, beginning at 8 p.m. A rehearsal will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at LaVale.

All friends of 4-H are invited to attend.

Members of the committee are Marlene Clark, Miss Simpson, Patricia King, Charlotte King, Rita Daniels and Jean Robinette.

Auxiliary Will Plan Activities

Various activities and projects will be discussed at the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Post 136, American Legion, Ridgeley tonight. Mrs. Elsie Leighty will conduct the meeting, which will be at 8 o'clock in the post home.

Final plans will be formulated for a clothing drive, for the child welfare work; and the date set for a fish fry.

The fall caravan also will be discussed.

Used houses account for three-fourths of the annual residential sales in the United States.

Lewyn Davis Memorial Given By 1934 Class

A $150 check for the Lewyn C. Davis memorial fund was donated and plans were formulated to furnish a private reading room in his memory at the 25th anniversary reunion of the Allegany High School class of 1934. The reading room will be in the new library of the school. Mr. Davis was class advisor.

Carl Low, Nyack, N.Y., was toastmaster for the dinner dance, held at the Ali Ghan Country Club. Arthur W. Taylor, head of the mathematics department, who retired this year, was guest speaker. A "Trip to the Past" featured the entertainment. The Cavaliers played for dancing.

Awards were given to Russell Curry, Bloomington, Ind., for coming the greatest distance; Mrs. Lloyd Freeland, having the most children; Mrs. George Laber, having the oldest grandchild; and Mrs. William Cowherd, having the youngest child.

Town Creek Club Has Reports

For the first time the Town Creek Homemakers Club had one hundred per cent attendance at the meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. Harvey Johnson.

The thought of the month was given by the hostess, and Mrs. Ralph Buser read the collect, and gave the history of the hymn, "Jesus, the Very Thought of Thee," which was sung by the group. Roll call was answered with favorite dishes of the families. They included, chicken and dumplings, Dutch dumplings, fried chicken, fresh fish from the farm pond, and hamburgers, because there are so many ways to fix it.

Mrs. Roy Shryock Sr. told of her trip to Rural Women's Short Course, which was designated as a vacation with education. Mrs. Shryock gave highlights of the address by George Sundborg, assistant to the senator from Alaska, which dealt with the new state; and courses she took on speaking and personality, "arts of living," and bee keeping.

A demonstration on "mixes or mix it yourself" was given by Mrs. Johnson. She used home-made and commercial mixes. The group voted the commercial mix with oil the best in flavor and the most economical.

The next meeting will be July 15 at the home of Mrs. George Reuschel.

Industrial Average Hits Record High In Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market finally achieved a new all-time high in the industrial average with a 2.5 billion dollar rise, paced by chemical, steel, tire, electronic, drug, metal, oil shares and numerous specialties which gained a point to 9 points.

The profit - taking which appeared in each of the two earlier sessions this week when the average poked into record territory, was absent. The average crossed the old mark in the first hour and continued steadily upward, finishing with a gain of 7.28 points at 650.88.

Traders were pleased with the market's action, especially in view of the holiday weekend which normally acts to limit activity to the routine. The anticipated flow of sharply higher second quarter earnings statements, it was said, helped lift the list.

The rise was accomplished on slightly reduced turnover—3,150,000 shares compared with 3,200,000 Tuesday.

Rails and utilities scored more modest gains and, of a total 1,218 issues traded, 665 were higher on the day, 322 lower.

Big gainers in the list comprising the industrial average included Goodyear Tire, up 5¼, Du Pont 2¾, General foods 2⅜, International Harvester 2½, International Nickel 1⅜, Alcoa 4 points; U.S. Steel 1¾, Eastman Kodak, Swift, Allied Chemical, Texaco, Union Carbide around a point each.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Wheat was firm, but other grains were mostly lower Wednesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the close, wheat was off ¼ to up ⅜; corn off ½ to ⅞; oats unchanged; new oats unchanged to off ½; rye off ¾ to 1¼, and soybeans off ⅜ to 1⅜.

Wheat encountered good buying on the part of exporters, mills, shorts and scattered commission houses, which boosted prices. At the same time, offerings were moderate and hedge sales were light. The 1960 futures were easier.

Corn prices were weak. There was some liquidation early, and also selling by commercial interests and commission houses. Heavy rains over much of the corn belt were reported. An elevator house sold December, which export houses bought. There was a resting demand and some short covering.

Export subsidies were granted on 980,000 bushels of corn and 80,000 bushels of rye. Bids on 989,000 bushels of oats were rejected.

Oats were easier. Elevator houses sold early, and cash interests bought new July. Illinois crop reports told of virus disease and bugs threatening the oats crop. Rye was also weak.

The soybean market was heavy, but July again resisted the market trend temporarily. There was some commercial buying. A large commission house sold November and bought July. Local traders sold November. The range:

Industrial Average Hits Record High In Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market finally achieved a new all-time high in the industrial average with a 2.5 billion dollar rise, paced by chemical, steel, tire, electronic, drug, metal, oil shares and numerous specialties which gained a point to 9 points.

The profit - taking which appeared in each of the two earlier sessions this week when the average poked into record territory, was absent. The average crossed the old mark in the first hour and continued steadily upward, finishing with a gain of 7.28 points at 650.88.

Traders were pleased with the market's action, especially in view of the holiday weekend which normally acts to limit activity to the routine. The anticipated flow of sharply higher second quarter earnings statements, it was said, helped lift the list.

The rise was accomplished on slightly reduced turnover—3,150,000 shares compared with 3,200,000 Tuesday.

Rails and utilities scored more modest gains and, of a total 1,218 issues traded, 665 were higher on the day, 322 lower.

Big gainers in the list comprising the industrial average included Goodyear Tire, up 5¼, Du Pont 2¾, General foods 2⅜, International Harvester 2½, International Nickel 1⅜, Alcoa 4 points; U.S. Steel 1¾, Eastman Kodak, Swift, Allied Chemical, Texaco, Union Carbide around a point each.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Wheat was firm, but other grains were mostly lower Wednesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the close, wheat was off ¼ to up ⅜; corn off ½ to ⅞; oats unchanged; new oats unchanged to off ½; rye off ¾ to 1¼, and soybeans off ⅜ to 1⅜.

Wheat encountered good buying on the part of exporters, mills, shorts and scattered commission houses, which boosted prices. At the same time, offerings were moderate and hedge sales were light. The 1960 futures were easier.

Corn prices were weak. There was some liquidation early, and also selling by commercial interests and commission houses. Heavy rains over much of the corn belt were reported. An elevator house sold December, which export houses bought. There was a resting demand and some short covering.

Export subsidies were granted on 980,000 bushels of corn and 80,000 bushels of rye. Bids on 989,000 bushels of oats were rejected.

Oats were easier. Elevator houses sold early, and cash interests bought new July. Illinois crop reports told of virus disease and bugs threatening the oats crop. Rye was also weak.

The soybean market was heavy, but July again resisted the market trend temporarily. There was some commercial buying. A large commission house sold November and bought July. Local traders sold November. The range:

Local Man Ordered Held For Jury Action

Delbert Campbell, this city, was ordered held under $1,500 bond for action of the next term of Circuit Court in Garrett County at a preliminary hearing yesterday.

Campbell, who was arrested here last week by Detective Lt. James E. Van, was taken before Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney in Oakland yesterday on three separate criminal charges.

He was charged Tuesday by Trooper Milton Hart of the Maryland State Police with receiving stolen goods and breaking and entering.

Authorities said that after the hearing yesterday, Campbell was committed to the Garrett County Jail in Oakland in default of bond.

Campbell was arrested last Friday by Cumberland police, along with two other Cumberland men who were suspects in a series of thefts in the tri-state area.

Campbell later was transferred to Allegany County Jail and was questioned by state police. He was taken to Oakland Tuesday by Tfc. Hart.

Trooper Hart said the two other men were released after being questioned over the weekend.

Campbell is charged with receiving stolen tires and tubes valued at about $40 on June 17 and with breaking into a service station near Grantsville.

Local Man Ordered Held For Jury Action

Delbert Campbell, this city, was ordered held under $1,500 bond for action of the next term of Circuit Court in Garrett County at a preliminary hearing yesterday.

Campbell, who was arrested here last week by Detective Lt. James E. Van, was taken before Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney in Oakland yesterday on three separate criminal charges.

He was charged Tuesday by Trooper Milton Hart of the Maryland State Police with receiving stolen goods and breaking and entering.

Authorities said that after the hearing yesterday, Campbell was committed to the Garrett County Jail in Oakland in default of bond.

Campbell was arrested last Friday by Cumberland police, along with two other Cumberland men who were suspects in a series of thefts in the tri-state area.

Campbell later was transferred to Allegany County Jail and was questioned by state police. He was taken to Oakland Tuesday by Tfc. Hart.

Trooper Hart said the two other men were released after being questioned over the weekend.

Campbell is charged with receiving stolen tires and tubes valued at about $40 on June 17 and with breaking into a service station near Grantsville.

Burney Voices Hope For "Live" Vaccine

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney voiced hope Tuesday that live virus polio vaccine may one day provide a cheaper and longer lasting immunity from polio than the Salk vaccine now used in the United States.

He said new reports on the live virus vaccine indicate "much favorable progress is being made."

Burney commented on reports issued after a World Health Conference last weekend on the live vaccine. Scientists traded notes on the orally - administered vaccine in Latin America, Russia, Europe, Africa and elsewhere.

They concluded that the vaccine is an effective type for some parts of the world but needs more testing to further establish its safety.

Burney said it was apparent from the reports that progress being made with the vaccine is "bringing closer to reality the possibility of a safe and effective vaccine of this type."

Potomac Edison Firm Sets Record During Current Hot Spell

The current hot spell has resulted in the Potomac Edison Company setting all-time records for output of power.

Garland Johnson, Cumberland District manager, said the utility set a new one-hour peak delivery of power on Tuesday.

During one hour during that day, 306,000 kilowatts of electricity were metered to consumers in the four-state system.

The previous one-hour peak was on July 28, 1958, when the maximum load was 292,000 kilowatts.

On Monday, the new record for a single day's output was set when 5,844,000 kilowatt hours were measured.

The previous high 24-hour period was on June 11 when the kilowatt hour total was 5,620,000, Johnson said.

During the hot spell when temperatures have remained in the 90's and at times exceeded 100 degrees, residents of this area have been resorting to every type of cooling device available.

That includes air conditioning, and fans. Then, too, the refrigerators are put on a constant strain because of the high temperatures.

Some home owners advance their freezers when ice cubes become a household necessity.

Johnson also pointed out that industrial use of electricity has also been a major factor in the increased output.

The PE has been able to handle the maximum drain on its system with ease, Johnson added. He explained that recently another power unit was placed in operation at the Williamsport plant.

Tubed Toilet Articles Ideal For Traveling

For "travelling light," as many like to do whether flying or motoring, toilet necessities in handy, unbreakable metal tubes are a practical necessity. Easily stuffed in small crevices among items of clothing, they take little room, add minimum weight, and will not leak contents no matter how the baggage is banged and bumped around.

The ancient Egyptians kept chickens.

Good Picnic Foods

Many imported foods come in fold-up metal tubes which are extra convenient for summer travel, beach parties or crowded summer cottage refrigerators. Foreign foods, for example, include fish and meat spreads, caviar, catsup, coffee cream, honey, jellies, preserves, horseradish sauce, and chocolate syrup—all packed in convenient metal tubes easily stuffed in picnic baskets.

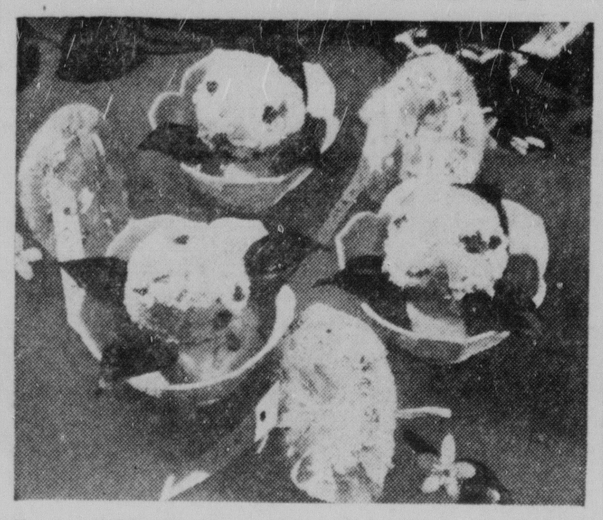

The Salmon river, in Idaho, is the longest river in the nation that flows within just one state.

Spanish Peaches

For an elegant dessert, float peach halves (fresh or canned) in oloroso (cream) type Spanish sherry. Serve in individual sherbet dishes or large goblets. When covered by the sherry, fresh peaches will not turn brown and the fruit flavor and sherry flovor blend deliciously.

Although only one-fourth of the population of the United States lives in the northeastern states, it receives nearly one-half of all lamb and mutton used in the nation.

Chocolate Petal Shower

Here's a "shower" dessert designed for the gals. It is a new ice cream called Orange Blossom which is trimmed with semi-sweet chocolate petals. All you do is form edible petals with melted chocolate, using philodendron or ivy leaves as patterns. When set remove the chocolate petals and decorate servings of the orange-pineapple ice cream with them. Use your most attractive dessert dishes.

Peppy Little Rolls

Brown-and-serve, or frozen rolls
2-3 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ teaspoon celery salt
Dash cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon ready-to-use onion juice

In a small saucepan, combine and melt butter or margarine and seasonings. Place rolls in shallow pan. Brush well on tops and sides with sauce. Bake according to package directions. Sprinkle with a little coarse salt or toasted sesame seed, and wrap in aluminum foil. When ready to serve, heat in foil on the barbecue. Serves 6-8.

For flavorful aroma while cooking over a table-top grill, crumble a few bay leaves with a little coarse ground black pepper. Sprinkle this "fire-spice" mixture right through mesh onto coals: use sparingly as it is strong. Foods cooked over "fire-spice" treated coals will absorb some of the aroma and flavor.

Helium and hydrogen are the gases with the greatest lifting power. Hydrogen is the more powerful, but helium is more satisfactory because it is non-inflammable and inert.

Spanish Picnic

A perfect beverage to take along on a grown-up picnic is Spanish sherry, preferably a very dry fino or an amontillado type. This is easy to carry, requires no ice or soda, and is the perfect complement to grilled fish and barbecued chicken. When a chilled drink is preferred, place the bottle of sherry partially under water in a cool stream or hold under very cold running water.

Tubed Toilet Articles Ideal For Traveling

For "travelling light," as many like to do whether flying or motoring, toilet necessities in handy, unbreakable metal tubes are a practical necessity. Easily stuffed in small crevices among items of clothing, they take little room, add minimum weight, and will not leak contents no matter how the baggage is banged and bumped around.

The ancient Egyptians kept chickens.

Good Picnic Foods

Many imported foods come in fold-up metal tubes which are extra convenient for summer travel, beach parties or crowded summer cottage refrigerators. Foreign foods, for example, include fish and meat spreads, caviar, catsup, coffee cream, honey, jellies, preserves, horseradish sauce, and chocolate syrup—all packed in convenient metal tubes easily stuffed in picnic baskets.

The Salmon river, in Idaho, is the longest river in the nation that flows within just one state.

Spanish Peaches

For an elegant dessert, float peach halves (fresh or canned) in oloroso (cream) type Spanish sherry. Serve in individual sherbet dishes or large goblets. When covered by the sherry, fresh peaches will not turn brown and the fruit flavor and sherry flovor blend deliciously.

Although only one-fourth of the population of the United States lives in the northeastern states, it receives nearly one-half of all lamb and mutton used in the nation.

Chocolate Petal Shower

Here's a "shower" dessert designed for the gals. It is a new ice cream called Orange Blossom which is trimmed with semi-sweet chocolate petals. All you do is form edible petals with melted chocolate, using philodendron or ivy leaves as patterns. When set remove the chocolate petals and decorate servings of the orange-pineapple ice cream with them. Use your most attractive dessert dishes.

Peppy Little Rolls

Brown-and-serve, or frozen rolls
2-3 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ teaspoon celery salt
Dash cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon ready-to-use onion juice

In a small saucepan, combine and melt butter or margarine and seasonings. Place rolls in shallow pan. Brush well on tops and sides with sauce. Bake according to package directions. Sprinkle with a little coarse salt or toasted sesame seed, and wrap in aluminum foil. When ready to serve, heat in foil on the barbecue. Serves 6-8.

For flavorful aroma while cooking over a table-top grill, crumble a few bay leaves with a little coarse ground black pepper. Sprinkle this "fire-spice" mixture right through mesh onto coals: use sparingly as it is strong. Foods cooked over "fire-spice" treated coals will absorb some of the aroma and flavor.

Helium and hydrogen are the gases with the greatest lifting power. Hydrogen is the more powerful, but helium is more satisfactory because it is non-inflammable and inert.

Spanish Picnic

A perfect beverage to take along on a grown-up picnic is Spanish sherry, preferably a very dry fino or an amontillado type. This is easy to carry, requires no ice or soda, and is the perfect complement to grilled fish and barbecued chicken. When a chilled drink is preferred, place the bottle of sherry partially under water in a cool stream or hold under very cold running water.

Your Guests Will Enjoy Brunch Menu

The brunch menu described here will have women guests exclaiming over its colorfulness—and there's a possibility that one of the men in the crowd might say in surprise, "Fish sticks for breakfast?"

A happy feature of this menu for the hostess is the way it frees her for some morning leisure along with her guests. The frozen fish sticks and the frozen potato puffs are heated in the oven while the frozen asparagus has its brief cooking. The well flavored white sauce is quick to make, though you may want to cook it the day before, heating in the double boiler just before serving.

There's a delightful surprise about the coffee cake, because frozen peaches peek out from under the sugar-and-spice topping. Delicious made either with a mix or "from scratch."

The eye-opener, of course, is that morning stand-by, frozen orange juice. A one-half-cup-size serving gives 72 per cent of the day's vitamin C requirement for a man—a slightly higher percentage for women and children.

Match the number on the menu with the number on the sentence below to guide you in preparing the foods to have them all ready at the same time.

Summer Brunch

Frozen Orange Juice (5)
Frozen Asparagus Spears with Cream Sauce and Pimiento (2)
Frozen Fish Sticks (3)
Frozen Potato Puffs (4)
Frozen Peach Coffee Cake (1)
Plenty of Coffee

(1) The coffee cake needs from 30 to 50 minutes to bake, depending upon whether you use a mix or make it "from scratch." Have frozen peaches defrosted. (Let unopened containers stand in food compartment overnight for defrosting.)

(2) Start frozen asparagus spears cooking in small amount of salted water. Drain. Make cream sauce and keep it hot over boiling water or heat cream sauce made the day before.

(3) and (4) When coffee cake is done, place on rack to cool and turn oven up to 425 deg. F. Arrange fish sticks and potato puffs on separate cooky sheets and place on separate racks in oven to heat approximately 15 minutes.

(5) Add cold water to frozen concentrated orange juice, which you have defrosted by placing unopened can in cold running water for 10 or 15 minutes or by letting stand in food compartment overnight. Stir well and pour into chilled glasses.

Frozen Peach Coffee Cake

Mix coffee cake batter by directions on package. Turn into pan. Arrange drained peach slices from one container frozen peaches in rows on top. Sprinkle streusel topping over peaches. Bake 5 to 10 minutes longer than mix package directions indicate. Reserve juice from peaches for punches and ades.

Frozen Peach Coffee Cake
(to make from scratch)

2 packages frozen sliced peaches
¼ cup softened butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
½ cup brown sugar
⅓ cup sifted flour
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup softened butter or margarine

Defrost peaches (by allowing to stand unopened in food compartment of refrigerator overnight). Mix thoroughly the butter or margarine, sugar, and egg. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Stir thtese dry ingredients into the shortening mixture alternately with the milk. Turn batter into 9-inch-square or 8½-inch-square pan which has been thoroughly greased and floured. Arrange drained peach slices in decorative pattern on top, pressing them slightly into the batter. (Reserve juice from peaches for punches and ades).

Mix streusel mixture by mixing brown sugar, ⅓ cup flour, cinnamon, and the second ¼ cup butter or margarine. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 deg. F.) approximately 50 minutes. To serve, cut in 9 squares. Cool slightly on rack and serve warm. Juice from peaches should be refrigerated to use in cold drinks.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

Pimiento Burger Bits

1 pound ground beef
2 slices fresh white bread, crumbled
1 tablespoon minced pimiento
¼ cup milk
½ teaspoon ready-to-use garlic or onion juice
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients, adding other favorite seasonings as desired. Let stand at room temperature for about 15 minutes, then mix thoroughly. Shape into little balls. Brown quickly in hot fat. Refrigerate until ready to serve. To serve: Thread a square of pimiento and a burger ball on skewer or long-handled fork. Sear quickly over hot coals. Eat while hot. Makes approximately 48 balls, sevring 6-8.

'Welsh-Rabbit' Burger Balls

2 or 3 tablespoons beer

Prepare and mix meat as above but do not shape into balls yet. Then mash or cream cheddar-type cheese with 2 or 3 tablespoons beer. Shape into tiny balls and chill until firm. Hold a scant tablespoon of meat mixture in palm of hand. Center cheese ball on meat, bolding and shaping meat around cheese so that the cheese is completely covered. Refrigerate, skewer and sear as above.

Shaving Cream Used As Soap By Travelers

Available in several sizes, shaving cream in safe, lightweight metal tubes makes an ideal travel soap. Eliminating the messy cake and space-consuming plastic or metal box, a tube of shaving cream can also be obtained in a favorite perfume — even lavender, for example. Nearly all brands contain special skin-protecting ingredients that help protect the hands from windburn and exposure.

Your Guests Will Enjoy Brunch Menu

The brunch menu described here will have women guests exclaiming over its colorfulness—and there's a possibility that one of the men in the crowd might say in surprise, "Fish sticks for breakfast?"

A happy feature of this menu for the hostess is the way it frees her for some morning leisure along with her guests. The frozen fish sticks and the frozen potato puffs are heated in the oven while the frozen asparagus has its brief cooking. The well flavored white sauce is quick to make, though you may want to cook it the day before, heating in the double boiler just before serving.

There's a delightful surprise about the coffee cake, because frozen peaches peek out from under the sugar-and-spice topping. Delicious made either with a mix or "from scratch."

The eye-opener, of course, is that morning stand-by, frozen orange juice. A one-half-cup-size serving gives 72 per cent of the day's vitamin C requirement for a man—a slightly higher percentage for women and children.

Match the number on the menu with the number on the sentence below to guide you in preparing the foods to have them all ready at the same time.

Summer Brunch

Frozen Orange Juice (5)
Frozen Asparagus Spears with Cream Sauce and Pimiento (2)
Frozen Fish Sticks (3)
Frozen Potato Puffs (4)
Frozen Peach Coffee Cake (1)
Plenty of Coffee

(1) The coffee cake needs from 30 to 50 minutes to bake, depending upon whether you use a mix or make it "from scratch." Have frozen peaches defrosted. (Let unopened containers stand in food compartment overnight for defrosting.)

(2) Start frozen asparagus spears cooking in small amount of salted water. Drain. Make cream sauce and keep it hot over boiling water or heat cream sauce made the day before.

(3) and (4) When coffee cake is done, place on rack to cool and turn oven up to 425 deg. F. Arrange fish sticks and potato puffs on separate cooky sheets and place on separate racks in oven to heat approximately 15 minutes.

(5) Add cold water to frozen concentrated orange juice, which you have defrosted by placing unopened can in cold running water for 10 or 15 minutes or by letting stand in food compartment of refrigerator overnight. Stir well and pour into chilled glasses.

Frozen Peach Coffee Cake

Mix coffee cake batter by directions on package. Turn into pan. Arrange drained peach slices from one container frozen peaches in rows on top. Sprinkle streusel topping over peaches. Bake 5 to 10 minutes longer than mix package directions indicate. Reserve juice from peaches for punches and ades.

Frozen Peach Coffee Cake
(to make from scratch)

- 2 packages frozen sliced peaches
- ¼ cup softened butter or margarine
- ¾ cup sugar
- 1 egg
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup milk
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ⅓ cup sifted flour
- 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ cup softened butter or margarine

Stir thtese dry ingredients into the shortening mixture alternately with the milk. Turn batter into 9-inch-square or 8½-inch-square pan which has been thoroughly greased and floured. Arrange drained peach slices in decorative pattern on top, pressing them slightly into the batter. (Reserve juice from peaches for punches and ades).

Make streusel mixture by mixing brown sugar, ⅓ cup flour, cinnamon, and the second ¼ cup butter or margarine. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 deg. F.) approximately 50 minutes. To serve, cut in 9 squares. Cool slightly on rack and serve warm. Juice from peaches should be refrigerated to use in cold drinks.

Pimiento Burger Bits

- 1 pound ground beef
- 2 slices fresh white bread, crumbled
- 1 tablespoon minced pimiento
- ¼ cup milk
- ½ teaspoon ready-to-use garlic or onion juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients, adding other favorite seasonings as desired. Let stand at room temperature for about 15 minutes, then mix thoroughly. Shape into little balls. Brown quickly in hot fat. Refrigerate until ready to serve. To serve: Thread a square of pimiento and a burger ball on skewer or long-handled fork. Sear quickly over hot coals. Eat while hot. Makes approximately 48 balls, sevring 6-8.

'Welsh-Rabbit' Burger Balls

- 1 package sharp cheddar-type cheese
- 2 or 3 tablespoons beer

Prepare and mix meat as above but do not shape into balls yet. Then mash or cream cheddar-type cheese with 2 or 3 tablespoons beer. Shape into tiny balls and chill until firm. Hold a scant tablespoon of meat mixture in palm of hand. Center cheese ball on meat, bolding and shaping meat around cheese so that the cheese is completely covered. Refrigerate, skewer and sear as above.

Shaving Cream Used As Soap By Travelers

Available in several sizes, shaving cream in safe, lightweight metal tubes makes an ideal travel soap. Eliminating the messy cake and space-consuming plastic or metal box, a tube of shaving cream can also be obtained in a favorite perfume — even lavender, for example. Nearly all brands contain special skin-protecting ingredients that help protect the hands from windburn and exposure.

Local Woman Sustained Broken Back In Fall From Burning Norwegian Hotel

Local relatives have been advised that Mrs. Ada Twigg, 58, of 114 Harrison Street, suffered a broken back escaping from a resort hotel fire last week in Stalheim, Norway.

Mrs. Twigg was one of about 20 patrons of the hotel who were injured in the tragic blaze which claimed the lives of another 25 vacationers.

Mrs. Gladys Snyder, 267 Williams Street, said she has been informed that her sister suffered the injury when she leaped from a third-story room of the tourist inn in an attempt to escape from the burning structure.

Mrs. Twigg lost all of her possessions in the blaze which gutted the hotel, Mrs. Snyder said.

Ill fortune seems to plague Mrs. Twigg in her frequent travels, her sister said, pointing out that she was a survivor in a highway crash in 1933 which claimed the life of her father, a sister and a friend.

Mrs. Snyder said the family was returning from a visit to the World Fair in Chicago when their automobile was wrecked near Springfield, Ohio. Mrs. Twigg spent several months in the hospital recovering from her injuries in the auto accident.

Since her passport was among the possessions lost in the Norway hotel fire, Mrs. Twigg is trying to contact U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall for assistance in returning to this country. Mrs. Twigg has informed her family that she does not think it necessary for any member to come to Norway.

Mrs. Snyder said she does not know whether her sister is able to travel yet, but that her return passage to this country is booked aboard the Queen Mary, due to arrive here next week.

In the event that she is unable to return on the Queen Mary, Mrs. Snyder said, her sister might possibly return by plane.

Mrs. Twigg is a patient in a hospital at Voss, Norway, and is interested in receiving letters from friends, her sister said.

An experienced traveler, Mrs. Twigg was visiting her native home near London when she decided to go on a tour of the Scandinavian countries. The Stalheim Hotel was popular with tourists who used it as a starting place for tours of Norway's spectacular fjords.

There were nearly 150 guests at the four-story wooden structure when fire flashed through the inn early last Tuesday morning.

Veteran Kelly Worker Retires

Ralph W. Stein, 450 Walnut Street, retired yesterday from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company after nearly 39 years service.

Stein, who went to work on the construction of the plant after his World War I service, has held the No. 1 seniority position among all hourly paid plant workers for the past three years.

He also has been the oldest employe in the curing department, the largest department in the plant.

He went to work for Kelly on November 24, 1920, in the curing room, helped to mold the plant's first tire and remained in that department during his career there. He retired in the department's line blast - burn molds section.

TOKYO (UPI) — Radio Peiping said Wednesday the Chinese Communists Tuesday released three Nationalist airmen who were captured when their plane was shot down over the Fukien front last year.

B&O Furloughs Men Here, Keyser

A combination of a two weeks miners vacation period and a threat of a steel strike has caused the furlough of some B & O Railroad workers yesterday.

At Keyser a total of 329 carmen were laid off while in Cumberland the original furlough list has been cut down.

Last Friday notices were sent to 53 carmen in Cumberland that they would be furloughed but this was reduced to 33 as of yesterday.

There had been 45 workers at the local roundhouse scheduled for furlough last Friday but the number was sharply reduced to only ten, according to B & O officials. The Bolt and Forge Shops had a list of 100 men set to be furloughed yesterday but a last-minute change cut this to 50 men.

In the event there is a settlement in the steel situation prior to the end of the deadline for the contract it is hoped that the furlough may be short-lived, rail officials said.

Mrs. Snyder said she does not know whether her sister is able to travel yet, but that her return passage to this country is booked aboard the Queen Mary, due to arrive here next week.

In the event that she is unable to return on the Queen Mary, Mrs. Snyder said, her sister might possibly return by plane.

Mrs. Twigg is a patient in a hospital at Voss, Norway, and is interested in receiving letters from friends, her sister said.

An experienced traveler, Mrs. Twigg was visiting her native home near London when she decided to go on a tour of the Scandinavian countries. The Stalheim Hotel was popular with tourists who used it as a starting place for tours of Norway's spectacular fjords.

There were nearly 150 guests at the four-story wooden structure when fire flashed through the inn early last Tuesday morning.

Veteran Kelly Worker Retires

Ralph W. Stein, 450 Walnut Street, retired yesterday from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company after nearly 39 years service.

Stein, who went to work on the construction of the plant after his World War I service, has held the No. 1 seniority position among all hourly paid plant workers for the past three years.

He also has been the oldest employe in the curing department, the largest department in the plant.

He went to work for Kelly on November 24, 1920, in the curing room, helped to mold the plant's first tire and remained in that department during his career there. He retired in the department's line blast-burn molds section.

B&O Furloughs Men Here, Keyser

A combination of a two weeks miners vacation period and a threat of a steel strike has caused the furlough of some B & O Railroad workers yesterday.

At Keyser a total of 329 carmen were laid off while in Cumberland the original furlough list has been cut down.

Last Friday notices were sent to 53 carmen in Cumberland that they would be furloughed but this was reduced to 33 as of yesterday.

There had been 45 workers at the local roundhouse scheduled for furlough last Friday but the number was sharply reduced to only ten, according to B & O officials. The Bolt and Forge Shops had a list of 100 men set to be furloughed yesterday but a last-minute change cut this to 50 men.

In the event there is a settlement in the steel situation prior to the end of the deadline for the contract it is hoped that the furlough may be short-lived, rail officials said.

Glorious Third, Fourth, Fifth

An executive order by President Eisenhower gives federal employes this Friday off, to allow all who can be spared to enjoy a three-day Fourth of July weekend. The governors of Maryland and Virginia, bordering the District of Columbia, have ordered like dispensations for state employes.

The President's action probably kills for this year a bill in Congress which would make Friday a mandatory day off for government workers whenever a legal holiday falls on Saturday. The administration calls this measure "costly and unwarranted." One of its provisions would give time-and-a-half pay to all who remained at work, and that would cost the government an extra $4 million to $6 million on each occasion.

Post Office workers will be the largest group spending Friday on the job. Postmaster General Summerfield has said the mails are to be handled on normal schedule July 3. All government workers deprived of the extra holiday will be given compensatory time off later in the year.

Due in part to the example of the national government, which has been generous in this regard (its workers got Friday off last year when Christmas came on a Thursday), the long weekend is spreading apace. The New York Stock Exchange has voted to close shop regularly on the preceding Friday when a holiday falls on Saturday, except in times of "unusual business conditions." Major securities and commodity exchanges in most other cities will also be closed on July 3 this year.

But there are many for whom the long weekend is anything but a happy respite from regular duties, particularly if it includes the Fourth of July. Highway patrols, ambulance drivers, doctors and orderlies in casualties sections of hospitals expect another "unsafe and insane Fourth" this year.

The National Safety Council reported 310 traffic deaths for the recent Memorial Day weekend. Its pre-holiday estimate had been 260. In addition to deaths on the road, there were 79 drownings, many of them in boating accidents, which are rapidly on the increase.

More On Olympics

Apparently the official attitude of the Comite Internationale Olympique is that Nationalist China should change its name. Perhaps one day, this august committee of sportsmen will request the United States to change its name because there are other countries which call themselves United States or something like that.

Otto Mayer, chancellor of the Comite, takes the position that no politics are involved in asking Nationalist China to change its name although by all the rules of international relations, Nationalist China is the successor state to the Manchu monarchy. Sun Yatsen, the leader of the Revolution of 1911 against the Manchu Dynasty, gave the name to the Republic of China. There is legitimacy among nations and the legitimate government of China is Nationalist China, situated on Formosa. Avery Brundage, of the International Olympic Committee, might ask the State Department about that. Of course, Soviet Russia does not hold with the American State Department on that or most other questions, but an American citizen is expected to.

Apparently the International Olympic Committee does not "make politics." The Peking-China Olympic Committee is permitted to enter the International Olympic Committee on condition that Communist China does not claim "to control sport over Formosa."

Writing to an American, Mayer says:

". . . You live in a complete different ideological world than we do in Europe and I think that Mr. Brundage is perhaps one amongst the few Americans who understand what is going about on this side of the ocean. Mind you, I would much prefer to be under American domination, if there should be any, than under any others!"

Of course, what Otto Mayer does not understand is that we have no wish to dominate him or any other European. As a matter of fact, we do not look kindly upon human beings who permit themselves to be dominated by anybody.

It would seem to me that the United States has no place in this Olympic situation. Brundage, who is chairman of the American Committee and president of the International body, makes the point in his statement:

". . . the International Olympic Committee, which has as one of its fundamental principles, 'No discrimination is allowed against any country or person on grounds of race, religion or politics' . . ."

But the United States does make a distinction as to politics. It does not recognize Red China. It does not issue passports to Red China. It does not grant visas for Red Chinese. How, then, can an American Olympic Committee do business with Red China?

This is Brundage's statement and Brundage's logic:

"At our meeting in Munich it was pointed out that if the Peking Committee has no authority in Taiwan, it is equally true that the Formosa Committee has no authority in China. It was for this reason that the following action was taken in Munich:

" 'The Chinese National Olympic Committee having its seat in Taipei (Taiwan) will be notified by the International Olympic Committee chancellor that it cannot continue to be recognized under that name since it does not control sport in the country of China, and its name will be removed from the official list.

" 'If an application for recognition under a different name is made it will be considered by the International Olympic Committee.' "

Why not ask Red China to change its name? In fact, what is its name and what does it derive from?

It is difficult to understand the logic of this situation, unless it is as stated in the words of my friend, General John V. Grombach, who says:

". . . I believe the International Olympic Committee has stepped into the realm of politics by dictating what name the Republic of China has to adopt. If this is not meddling in politics, I will eat Mount Blanc. What possible difference can it make to Mr. Brundage or the International Olympic Committee if the Chinese athletes from the Island of Formosa enter as representatives of the Republic of China or as representatives of Taiwan or Formosa — unless the International Olympic Committee is meddling in politics? They are, after all, Chinese and not Formosans."

Closing In Again

The Billion-Dollar Headache Of Mr. Anderson

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson has again proved that he is the Eisenhower administration's sole fully effective lobbyist on Capitol Hill. The proof is the House Ways and Means Committee's compromise on the interest rate problem, an obscure but burning issue which is likely to cause this Congressional session's hottest, longest legislative row.

Anderson can accomplish more on The Hill than any other Eisenhower Cabinet member because of his warm relations with three men, Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson, and the Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Rep. Wilbur Mills. In the present case, the real architect of the interest rate compromise was the able Mills. Yet even Mills, with all his sense of responsibility would surely have been tempted to thumb his nose at anyone but Anderson.

The point directly at issue was the interest rate the Treasury is permitted to offer on federal bonds. For decades, a maximum rate of 4¼ per cent has been fixed by law, even for the longest term issue. In the present market, the Treasury is quite unable to sell long term paper bearing the statutory rate of interest. With many tens of billions of government debt to refinance, Secretary Anderson therefore asked for removal of the ceiling on the interest rate.

The Anderson request was a political hot potato of the worst sort, because any rise in the federal interest rate automatically affects all interest rates. The grass roots voters could hardly have been less interested. But the construction industry, the savings and loan associations, all marginal small businessmen needing regular lines of credit for their operations, and many other locally powerful special groups, were immediately up in arms. Reprisals were threatened against any one voting for Anderson "and the bankers," (who of course benefit from higher interest rates).

If money were less tight, the debate that still looms ahead would be less passionate. No less than ten Senators have told the Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, William McChesney Martin, "Give us easier money, and we'll give Anderson his new interest rate right away." But Martin will not ease credit for fear of price inflation, and he will not support the government bond market either, both because of inflation-fears and because he does not believe that the expedient would work for long.

In these circumstances, Anderson had to make the most sobering sort of plea to get anywhere at all on Capitol Hill. He had to point out that approximately three-quarters of the gigantic U. S. gold reserve — about $16,000,000,000 in all — is callable in one way or another by foreign governments and financial interests overseas.

Hence a run on the dollar could in theory leave the Treasury with much less than half the $11,000,000,000 of gold in hand that the law requires as a base for the currency in circulation. Anderson warned the House Ways and Means Committee, in bleak terms, that there was a serious risk of a real run on the dollar, if he continued to have to do all his re-financing with very short term paper as at present.

Under the compromise evolved in the Ways and Means Committee, Anderson will be able to issue long term bonds at higher rates of interest, but only when the President, because he blames the Eisenhower administration for his friend Anderson's great headache, the persistent difficulty of selling long term bonds.

"Fiscal soundness" has been a great Republican cry. But there would be no budget-balancing problem today, as there would be much less inflationary pressure too, if former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey had not opened the ball with a profligate $7,000,000,000 tax cut. Thereafter, Humphrey sought to solve the budgetary problem by nibbling away at the national defense. Meanwhile Humphrey's Under Secretary, Randolph Burgess, impotently allowed the average term of government paper to grow shorter and shorter.

Nothing was done to reform the tax structure by eliminating loopholes. Nothing was done, either, about the tax exemption on state and municipal bonds, so useful to very rich men, and so fatal to the federal bond market. If all these matters had been differently handled, Mills argues with great cogency, Anderson would have no bond-headache today. As matters stand, however, no comprehensive attack on the roots of trouble can be attempted until there is a new President, with new ideas and new authority. Hence the Mills-Anderson compromise seemed the best and indeed the only way out.

Admiral Jumps From Navy Into Cushy Steamship Line Position

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Adm. John "Dutch" Will, a commander of the Military Sea Transport Service, resigns this week to become president of American Export Lines, a company which has hauled a considerable amount of government freight assigned to it by the MSTS.

His retirement to head an important steamship company highlights the steady trek of admirals and generals into big business where they have close liaison with the military services they once commanded. Following exposes by Sen. Paul Douglas (Ill.) and Congressman Alfred Santangelo (N.Y.), both Democrats, Congressman Eddie Hebert of Louisiana will begin an investigation of this close link between the big brass and big business.

Admiral Will, an efficient officer, has been quite close to American Export Lines in the past, went to New York to attend the dinner for John Geehan when he retired as president, has gone to various social functions with Mrs. Josephine Bey, chairman of the steamship company.

American Export Lines carries about 65 per cent of the U. S. government's military freight to the Middle East, all of it allocated through Admiral Will's MSTS.

When Admiral Will was asked about this, he admitted that this figure was probably correct, but explained that this was because American Export Lines was the chief U. S. company serving the Middle East. He added that MSTS freight allocations are recommended by the American Flag East Coast and Gulf Shipping Operations and MSTS merely accepts its recommendations.

What Congressmen are interested in is the fact than an American admiral doing business, even indirectly, with an important shipping line, should now become president of that line. Admiral Will's position, they point out, is considerably different from that of Adm. Roscoe Hillenkoetter who is president of the American Banner Line. It does no business with MSTS.

Admiral Will will be drawing a retired admiral's full pension from the U. S. taxpayers and at the same time will be paid handsomely by the private shipping line which benefits from U. S. government shipping, again paid for by the taxpayers.

Exit Justice Frankfurter?

Felix Frankfurter, delightful, diminutive Justice of the Supreme Court, seems to have it all figured out as to who his successor will be.

Frankfurter, oldest member of the court, reached the retirement age even years ago but is still clinging tenaciously to the highest bench in the land, despite a coronary attack which made him inactive part of last winter. Supreme Court Justices can now retire at full pay at the age of 70 ,and Frankfurter is now 77.

As a Harvard law professor, Frankfurter placed more young lawyers in the New Deal than any other man in the USA. More recently Frankfurter is being called the "second chief justice" as a result of the long succession of cases in which he has led the court majority in 5-4 decisions. Justice Frankfurter has accomplished this by wooing other members of the court, particularly Justice Tom Clark of Texas, a Truman appointee, over to his point of view.

Now, according to Supreme Court intimates, Justice Frankfurter will resign after Henry Friendly, general counsel for Pan American Airways, is confirmed and firmly ensconced on the U. S. Court of Appeals in New York.

Members of the Wall Street legal fraternity wondered why Friendly accepted appointment to the Court of Appeals in view of his position in the hierarchy of Pan American Airways. With Sam Pryor, Pan Am executive vice president, due for retirement soon and Juan Trippe ready to step down as president in the not too distant future, Friendly would be in a position to take over direction of "the world's most experienced airline."

However, it is now learned that he received assurances from Justice Frankfurter that after a brief service on the Court of Appeals Friendly could probably be appointed to the Supreme Court.

Frankfurter reasons that Eisenhower is making all his Supreme Court appointments from judges on the courts of appeals. Furthermore Friendly is Jewish, and Frankfurter's resignation would call for the appointment of a Jewish judge to replace him. Therefore, with proper backing, the Pan American counsel would succeed Justice Frankfurter in about a year.

The Eisenhower administration claims that business has never been better. But to its embarrassment, Western Union has just complained to the Federal Communications Commission that business is so bad out in Republican City, Nebraska, that their agency office was losing too much money there. The FCC agreed. Now telegraph service to Republican City, Neb., has been ordered discontinued . . . Mrs. Charles Bey, chairman of the American Export Lines, is widow of the U. S. Ambassador to Norway under Truman, Charley Bey. She is now married to Col. C. M. Paul, a colonel in the Texas State Police, born in Siberia, originally named "Iagolrich," entered this country in 1917 . . . President Eisenhower has assigned his plush new jet plane to fly his brother Milton and Vice President Nixon to Moscow. A Costly Strike

By Leslie Gould

NEW YORK — The steel strike —if it comes off on schedule— will cost more than half a billion dollars a week.

This weekly loss will be: wages of the steel workers, coal and iron ore miners and railroad workers — about $125 million.

Profits of the steel companies —about $31 million.

Steel sales—about $380 million.

Railroad freight revenues on coal, iron ore and steel—about $45 million.

Coal about $11 million.

Taxes on income of the workers and the companies.

In addition there will be the losses of the small business firms in the struck steel communities. This will be several million dollars—probably $12½ to $18½ million.

If the strike runs six to eight weeks the loss will be between $3 to $4 billion.

Some of the losses will be recaptured, depending on the length of the strike and the volume of business after the settlement. There will be a settlement, for neither side can go on indefinitely.

The strike will benefit no one. In this situation, neither side— the workers and the management —want a strike.

For the workers, if they get in the end a 10 cents an hour increase, it will take years to make up the loss in wages. Actually, they will never make up the loss.

At 10 cents an hour, it will take more than 36½ weeks to make up the loss of one week's pay and fringe benefits of $146.60. This is without any consideration of the inflation that will further reduce the dollar's buying power in the years ahead and the tax bit on the $4 additional wages. The tax bite on the $4 will be at the worker's top bracket.

The number of strikers expected to be called out is placed at 500,000. The industry employs 530,000. The strike will hit 82 companies doing between 85 and 88 per cent of the business. The balance is by small non-unionized companies and companies with contracts still in enforce.

Most steel customers have sufficient inventories built in anticipation of a walkout to last six to eight weeks.

A longer strike will pinch the whole economy. The auto industry, one of the biggest customers, has built up an inventory of more than a million new cars and in addition has stock piled the metal. The same for home appliance manufacturers.

Industries that are likely to be pinched include railroad car builders, farm implements and construction. It may also force some slow down in public works.

Some companies are planning to conserve their inventories of steel by vacation shut downs next month.

The steel union has yet to spell out its exact demands. The general impression is that David McDonald, the union president, wants more than the 12½ cents an hour package won by Walter Reuther for the auto workers and the 25 cents an hour granted John L. Lewis' mine workers.

The average present wages, including fringe benefits of the steel workers is $3.64 an hour. In the 34-day strike in 1956, the union won a 9½ cents an hour increase. In 1957, the workers got 15 cents an hour more and last year 17 cents. There have been 11 wage increases since 1940, going from $1.56 an hour to the present $3.64, including fringe benefits. The fringe benefits have gone in the same period from 17 cents an hour to a total of 75 cents to date.

What happens in steel will set the pattern for the rest of industry. The steel companies contend that any increase will have to be offset by higher prices. This proves the case, then another inflationary wage-price spiral will be touched.

Steel, the same as other industries facing foreign competition, is finding itself being priced out of the world markets, as well as finding increasing competition in domestic markets from foreign producers.

American steel wages with fringe benefits now are more than three times those in Britain and West Germany and about seven or eight times those of Japan.

Alcoholism More Than An Individual Problem

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Alcoholism in a family involves more than the drinker. The entire household is upset by frequent arguments and battles royal. Such an atmosphere is not a desirable one in which to rear children. Many youngsters with this background grow into insecure, psychoneurotic adults.

This situation is more prevalent than many persons realize. Skid Row is full of chronic alcoholics of the lowest type. But 85 per cent of all our alcoholics are married, living at home, and working every day. Many are protected by fellow workers, foremen, union stewards, and management.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send additional information on alcoholism by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

Alcoholism is a progressive disease and these hidden alcoholics are difficult to treat successfully unless the spouse, children, the boss, and others are included in the plan of treatment. The drinker starts out with certain weaknesses but as the years roll by he becomes so involved with his job, family, and community these factors cannot be overlooked when treatment is contemplated.

A group of Maryland physicians used this multiple approach in attacking the problems of 57 men and 20 women alcoholics. All were treated in clinics and given advice relating to their job, home, family, and personal appearance.

As a result of this counseling, 53 stopped drinking and 17 reduced their intake considerably. More than half showed a marked improvement in family and social adjustment. In many instances, the best results were obtained when the nonalcoholic partner agreed to cooperate and was counseled on better ways to make a happy home.

Motivation played an important role in the success of this type of therapy. Those who tried to get well by keeping their appointments faithfully usually succeeded.

EXCESSIVE SALT

W. T. writes: Will too much salt in the diet encourage hardening of the arteries?

REPLY

No. In some instances, excessive salt may elevate the blood pressure, which in turn encourages hardening of the arteries. But salt in itself does not have this effect.

GHOSTLIKE PAIN

P. R. writes: Can phantom pain in an amputated leg be cured?

REPLY

Yes, but it may be difficult to decide whether the physician's care or Father Time is responsible.

BUTTERMILK AND ULCER

E. J. writes: Is buttermilk good for ulcers?

REPLY

It is not as effective as whole milk, and in this respect is not recommended in ulcer therapy. Buttermilk often is used in the treatment of indigestion.

INFLAMED MUSCLES

J. L. writes: Is penicillin useful in muscle inflammation?

REPLY

Not unless muscular rheumatism is of bacterial origin, which seldom is the case. The condition usually is of traumatic or toxic origin.

METABOLISM

J. H. writes: Does a person with low metabolism usually have low blood pressure?

REPLY

No, but if the person is constitutionally inadequate he may specialize in lows — metabolism, blood pressure, and temperature.

DETOURED BLOOD

G. Z. writes: What information do you have on the portocaval shunt operation?

REPLY

This procedure is done in individuals with cirrhosis where the liver is so scarred it does not allow blood to flow from the intestinal organs to the heart. The operation consists of bypassing the liver by making an artifical connection between the large vein of the abdomen (portal) below and the large vein above that enters the heart (vena cava).

BURPING MOTHER

C. L. writes: My mother belches continuously. Is this due to nerves?

REPLY

Yes, and there also is a good possibility that she swallows air. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on air swallowing.

DROOPING SKIN

F. R. writes: What causes redundance of upper lid skin?

REPLY

Loss of elasticity of the tissues of the skin and muscles of the lids. This may come with age or illness.

RENAL COLIC

F. R. writes: What are the symptoms of kidney stones?

REPLY

Pain is the most common symptom. It varies from a dull ache over the flank on the involved side to the severe, excruciating pain of renal colic. Chills and fever may develop when the stones cause kidney infection.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

The President's action probably kills for this year a bill in Congress which would make Friday a mandatory day off for government workers whenever a legal holiday falls on Saturday. The administration calls this measure "costly and unwarranted." One of its provisions would give time-and-a-half pay to all who remained at work, and that would cost the government an extra $4 million to $6 million on each occasion.

Post Office workers will be the largest group spending Friday on the job. Postmaster General Summerfield has said the mails are to be handled on normal schedule July 3. All government workers deprived of the extra holiday will be given compensatory time off later in the year.

Due in part to the example of the national government, which has been generous in this regard (its workers got Friday off last year when Christmas came on a Thursday), the long weekend is spreading apace. The New York Stock Exchange has voted to close shop regularly on the preceding Friday when a holiday falls on Saturday, except in times of "unusual business conditions." Major securities and commodity exchanges in most other cities will also be closed on July 3 this year.

But there are many for whom the long weekend is anything but a happy respite from regular duties, particularly if it includes the Fourth of July. Highway patrols, ambulance drivers, doctors and orderlies in casualties sections of hospitals expect another "unsafe and insane Fourth" this year.

The National Safety Council reported 310 traffic deaths for the recent Memorial Day weekend. Its pre-holiday estimate had been 260. In addition to deaths on the road, there were 79 drownings, many of them in boating accidents, which are rapidly on the increase.

More On Olympics

Apparently the official attitude of the Comite Internationale Olympique is that Nationalist China should change its name. Perhaps one day, this august committee of sportsmen will request the United States to change its name because there are other countries which call themselves United States or something like that.

Otto Mayer, chancellor of the Comite, takes the position that no politics are involved in asking Nationalist China to change its name although by all the rules of international relations, Nationalist China is the successor state to the Manchu monarchy. Sun Yatsen, the leader of the Revolution of 1911 against the Manchu Dynasty, gave the name to the Republic of China. There is legitimacy among nations and the legitimate government of China is Nationalist China, situated on Formosa. Avery Brundage, of the International Olympic Committee, might ask the State Department about that. Of course, Soviet Russia does not hold with the American State Department on that or most other questions, but an American citizen is expected to.

Apparently the International Olympic Committee does not "make politics." The Peking-China Olympic Committee is permitted to enter the International Olympic Committee on condition that Communist China does not claim "to control sport over Formosa."

Writing to an American, Mayer says:

". . . You live in a complete different ideological world than we do in Europe and I think that Mr. Brundage is perhaps one amongst the few Americans who understand what is going about on this side of the ocean. Mind you, I would much prefer to be under American domination, if there should be any, than under any others!"

Of course, what Otto Mayer does not understand is that we have no wish to dominate him or any other European. As a matter of fact, we do not look kindly upon human beings who permit themselves to be dominated by anybody.

It would seem to me that the United States has no place in this Olympic situation. Brundage, who is chairman of the American Committee and president of the International body, makes the point in his statement:

". . . the International Olympic Committee, which has as one of its fundamental principles, 'No discrimination is allowed against any country or person on grounds of race, religion or politics' . . ."

But the United States does make a distinction as to politics. It does not recognize Red China. It does not issue passports to Red China. It does not grant visas for Red Chinese. How, then, can an American Olympic Committee do business with Red China?

This is Brundage's statement and Brundage's logic:

"At our meeting in Munich it was pointed out that if the Peking Committee has no authority in Taiwan, it is equally true that the Formosa Committee has no authority in China. It was for this reason that the following action was taken in Munich:

" 'The Chinese National Olympic Committee having its seat in Taipei (Taiwan) will be notified by the International Olympic Committee chancellor that it cannot continue to be recognized under that name since it does not control sport in the country of China, and its name will be removed from the official list.

" 'If an application for recognition under a different name is made it will be considered by the International Olympic Committee.' "

Why not ask Red China to change its name? In fact, what is its name and what does it derive from?

It is difficult to understand the logic of this situation, unless it is as stated in the words of my friend, General John V. Grombach, who says:

". . . I believe the International Olympic Committee has stepped into the realm of politics by dictating what name the Republic of China has to adopt. If this is not meddling in politics, I will eat Mount Blanc. What possible difference can it make to Mr. Brundage or the International Olympic Committee if the Chinese athletes from the Island of Formosa enter as representatives of the Republic of China or as representatives of Taiwan or Formosa — unless the International Olympic Committee is meddling in politics? They are, after all, Chinese and not Formosans."

Admiral Jumps From Navy Into Cushy Steamship Line Position

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Adm. John "Dutch" Will, a commander of the Military Sea Transport Service, resigns this week to become president of American Export Lines, a company which has hauled a considerable amount of government freight assigned to it by the MSTS.

His retirement to head an important steamship company highlights the steady trek of admirals and generals into big business where they have close liaison with the military services they once commanded. Following exposes by Sen. Paul Douglas (Ill.) and Congressman Alfred Santangelo (N.Y.), both Democrats, Congressman Eddie Hebert of Louisiana will begin an investigation of this close link between the big brass and big business.

Admiral Will, an efficient officer, has been quite close to American Export Lines in the past, went to New York to attend the dinner for John Geehan when he retired as president, has gone to various social functions with Mrs. Josephine Bey, chairman of the steamship company.

American Export Lines carries about 65 per cent of the U. S. government's military freight to the Middle East, all of it allocated through Admiral Will's MSTS.

When Admiral Will was asked about this, he admitted that this figure was probably correct, but explained that this was because American Export Lines was the chief U. S. company serving the Middle East. He added that MSTS freight allocations are recommended by the American Flag East Coast and Gulf Shipping Operations and MSTS merely accepts its recommendations.

What Congressmen are interested in is the fact than an American admiral doing business, even indirectly, with an important shipping line, should now become president of that line. Admiral Will's position, they point out, is considerably different from that of Adm. Roscoe Hillenkoetter who is president of the American Banner Line. It does no business with MSTS.

Admiral Will will be drawing a retired admiral's full pension from the U. S. taxpayers and at the same time will be paid handsomely by the private shipping line which benefits from U. S. government shipping, again paid for by the taxpayers.

Exit Justice Frankfurter?

Felix Frankfurter, delightful, diminutive Justice of the Supreme Court, seems to have it all figured out as to who his successor will be.

Frankfurter, oldest member of the court, reached the retirement age even years ago but is still clinging tenaciously to the highest bench in the land, despite a coronary attack which made him inactive part of last winter. Supreme Court Justices can now retire at full pay at the age of 70 ,and Frankfurter is now 77.

As a Harvard law professor, Frankfurter placed more young lawyers in the New Deal than any other man in the USA. More recently Frankfurter is being called the "second chief justice" as a result of the long succession of cases in which he has led the court majority in 5-4 decisions. Justice Frankfurter has accomplished this by wooing other members of the court, particularly Justice Tom Clark of Texas, a Truman appointee, over to his point of view.

Now, according to Supreme Court intimates, Justice Frankfurter will resign after Henry Friendly, general counsel for Pan American Airways, is confirmed and firmly ensconced on the U. S. Court of Appeals in New York.

Members of the Wall Street legal fraternity wondered why Friendly accepted appointment to the Court of Appeals in view of his position in the hierarchy of Pan American Airways. With Sam Pryor, Pan Am executive vice president, due for retirement soon and Juan Trippe ready to step down as president in the not too distant future, Friendly would be in a position to take over direction of "the world's most experienced airline."

However, it is now learned that he received assurances from Justice Frankfurter that after a brief service on the Court of Appeals Friendly could probably be appointed to the Supreme Court.

Frankfurter reasons that Eisenhower is making all his Supreme Court appointments from judges on the courts of appeals. Furthermore Friendly is Jewish, and Frankfurter's resignation would call for the appointment of a Jewish judge to replace him. Therefore, with proper backing, the Pan American counsel would succeed Justice Frankfurter in about a year.

The Eisenhower administration claims that business has never been better. But to its embarrassment, Western Union has just complained to the Federal Communications Commission that business is so bad out in Republican City, Nebraska, that their agency office was losing too much money there. The FCC agreed. Now telegraph service to Republican City, Neb., has been ordered discontinued . . . Mrs. Charles Bey, chairman of the American Export Lines, is widow of the U. S. Ambassador to Norway under Truman, Charley Bey. She is now married to Col. C. M. Paul, a colonel in the Texas State Police, born in Siberia, originally named "Iagolrich," entered this country in 1917 . . . President Eisenhower has assigned his plush new jet plane to fly his brother Milton and Vice President Nixon to Moscow. But they will make one stop for refueling—in Iceland—whereas Deputy Premier Kozlov made it here nonstop.

The Billion-Dollar Headache Of Mr. Anderson

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson has again proved that he is the Eisenhower administration's sole fully effective lobbyist on Capitol Hill. The proof is the House Ways and Means Committee's compromise on the interest rate problem, an obscure but burning issue which is likely to cause this Congressional session's hottest, longest legislative row.

Anderson can accomplish more on The Hill than any other Eisenhower Cabinet member because of his warm relations with three men, Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson, and the Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Rep. Wilbur Mills. In the present case, the real architect of the interest rate compromise was the able Mills. Yet even Mills, with all his sense of responsibility would surely have been tempted to thumb his nose at anyone but Anderson.

The point directly at issue was the interest rate the Treasury is permitted to offer on federal bonds. For decades, a maximum rate of 4¼ per cent has been fixed by law, even for the longest term issue. In the present market, the Treasury is quite unable to sell long term paper bearing the statutory rate of interest. With many tens of billions of government debt to refinance, Secretary Anderson therefore asked for removal of the ceiling on the interest rate.

The Anderson request was a political hot potato of the worst sort, because any rise in the federal interest rate automatically affects all interest rates. The grass roots voters could hardly have been less interested. But the construction industry, the savings and loan associations, all marginal small businessmen needing regular lines of credit for their operations, and many other locally powerful special groups, were immediately up in arms. Reprisals were threatened against any one voting for Anderson "and the bankers," (who of course benefit from higher interest rates).

If money were less tight, the debate that still looms ahead would be less passionate. No less than ten Senators have told the Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, William McChesney Martin, "Give us easier money, and we'll give Anderson his new interest rate right away." But Martin will not ease credit for fear of price inflation, and he will not support the government bond market either, both because of inflation-fears and because he does not believe that the expedient would work for long.

In these circumstances, Anderson had to make the most sobering sort of plea to get anywhere at all on Capitol Hill. He had to point out that approximately three-quarters of the gigantic U. S. gold reserve — about $16,000,000,000 in all — is callable in one way or another by foreign governments and financial interests overseas.

Hence a run on the dollar could in theory leave the Treasury with much less than half the $11,000,000,000 of gold in hand that the law requires as a base for the currency in circulation. Anderson warned the House Ways and Means Committee, in bleak terms, that there was a serious risk of a real run on the dollar, if he continued to have to do all his re-financing with very short term paper as at present.

Under the compromise evolved in the Ways and Means Committee, Anderson will be able to issue long term bonds at higher rates of interest, but only when the President, because he blames the Eisenhower administration for his friend Anderson's great headache, the persistent difficulty of selling long term bonds.

"Fiscal soundness" has been a great Republican cry. But there would be no budget-balancing problem today, as there would be much less inflationary pressure too, if former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey had not opened the ball with a profligate $7,000,000,000 tax cut. Thereafter, Humphrey sought to solve the budgetary problem by nibbling away at the national defense. Meanwhile Humphrey's Under Secretary, Randolph Burgess, impotently allowed the average term of government paper to grow shorter and shorter.

Nothing was done to reform the tax structure by eliminating loopholes. Nothing was done, either, about the tax exemption on state and municipal bonds, so useful to very rich men, and so fatal to the federal bond market. If all these matters had been differently handled, Mills argues with great cogency, Anderson would have no bond-headache today. As matters stand, however, no comprehensive attack on the roots of trouble can be attempted until there is a new President, with new ideas and new authority. Hence the Mills-Anderson compromise seemed the best and indeed the only way out.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

Seventy-five young American men and women are en route to Moscow to act as quides at the United States exhibit at the international industrial exposition opening there the latter part of July.

They are going early to get their feet on the ground, familiarize themselves with the Russian people and be briefed on the hundreds of American items that will make up this country's display.

Besides being well educated, personable and attractive, they all have one thing in common. All speak Russian fluently.

A Costly Strike

By Leslie Gould

NEW YORK — The steel strike —if it comes off on schedule— will cost more than half a billion dollars a week.

This weekly loss will be:

wages of the steel workers, coal and iron ore miners and railroad workers — about $125 million.

Profits of the steel companies —about $31 million.

Steel sales—about $380 million.

Railroad freight revenues on coal, iron ore and steel—about $45 million.

Coal about $11 million.

Taxes on income of the workers and the companies.

In addition there will be the losses of the small business firms in the struck steel communities. This will be several million dollars—probably $12½ to $18½ million.

If the strike runs six to eight weeks the loss will be between $3 to $4 billion.

Some of the losses will be recaptured, depending on the length of the strike and the volume of business after the settlement. There will be a settlement, for neither side can go on indefinitely.

The strike will benefit no one. In this situation, neither side—the workers and the management —want a strike.

For the workers, if they get in the end a 10 cents an hour increase, it will take years to make up the loss in wages. Actually, they will never make up the loss.

At 10 cents an hour, it will take more than 36½ weeks to make up the loss of one week's pay and fringe benefits of $146.60. This is without any consideration of the inflation that will further reduce the dollar's buying power in the years ahead and the tax bit on the $4 additional wages. The tax bite on the $4 will be at the worker's top bracket.

The number of strikers expected to be called out is placed at 500,000. The industry employs 530,000. The strike will hit 82 companies doing between 85 and 88 per cent of the business. The balance is by small non-unionized companies and companies with contracts still in enforce.

Most steel customers have sufficient inventories built in anticipation of a walkout to last six to eight weeks.

A longer strike will pinch the whole economy. The auto industry, one of the biggest customers, has built up an inventory of more than a million new cars and in additicn has stock piled the metal. The same for home appliance manufacturers.

Industries that are likely to be pinched include railroad car builders, farm implements and construction. It may also force some slow down in public works.

Some companies are planning to conserve their inventories of steel by vacation shut downs next month.

The steel union has yet to spell out its exact demands. The general impression is that David McDonald, the union president, wants more than the 12½ cents an hour package won by Walter Reuther for the auto workers and the 25 cents an hour granted John L. Lewis' mine workers.

The average present wages, including fringe benefits of the steel workers is $3.64 an hour. In the 34-day strike in 1956, the union won a 9½ cents an hour increase. In 1957, the workers got 15 cents an hour more and last year 17 cents. There have been 11 wage increases since 1940, going from $1.56 an hour to the present $3.64, including fringe benefits. The fringe benefits have gone in the same period from 17 cents an hour to a total of 75 cents to date.

What happens in steel will set the pattern for the rest of industry. The steel companies contend that any increase will have to be offset by higher prices. This proves the case, then another inflationary wage-price spiral will be touched.

Steel, the same as other industries facing foreign competition, is finding itself being priced out of the world markets, as well as finding increasing competition in domestic markets from foreign producers.

American steel wages with fringe benefits now are more than three times those in Britain and West Germany and about seven or eight times those of Japan.

Alcoholism More Than An Individual Problem

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Alcoholism in a family involves more than the drinker. The entire household is upset by frequent arguments and battles royal. Such an atmosphere is not a desirable one in which to rear children. Many youngsters with this background grow into insecure, psychoneurotic adults.

This situation is more prevalent than many persons realize. Skid Row is full of chronic alcoholics of the lowest type. But 85 per cent of all our alcoholics are married, living at home, and working every day. Many are protected by fellow workers, foremen, union stewards, and management.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send additional information on alcoholism by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

Alcoholism is a progressive disease and these hidden alcoholics are difficult to treat successfully unless the spouse, children, the boss, and others are included in the plan of treatment. The drinker starts out with certain weaknesses but as the years roll by he becomes so involved with his job, family, and community these factors cannot be overlooked when treatment is contemplated.

A group of Maryland physicians used this multiple approach in attacking the problems of 57 men and 20 women alcoholics. All were treated in clinics and given advice relating to their job, home, family, and personal appearance.

As a result of this counseling, 53 stopped drinking and 17 reduced their intake considerably. More than half showed a marked improvement in family and social adjustment. In many instances, the best results were obtained when the nonalcoholic partner agreed to cooperate and was counseled on better ways to make a happy home.

Motivation played an important role in the success of this type of therapy. Those who tried to get well by keeping their appointments faithfully usually succeeded.

EXCESSIVE SALT

W. T. writes: Will too much salt in the diet encourage hardening of the arteries?

REPLY

No. In some instances, excessive salt may elevate the blood pressure, which in turn encourages hardening of the arteries. But salt in itself does not have this effect.

GHOSTLIKE PAIN

P. R. writes: Can phantom pain in an amputated leg be cured?

REPLY

Yes, but it may be difficult to decide whether the physician's care or Father Time is responsible.

BUTTERMILK AND ULCER

E. J. writes: Is buttermilk good for ulcers?

REPLY

It is not as effective as whole milk, and in this respect is not recommended in ulcer therapy. Buttermilk often is used in the treatment of indigestion.

INFLAMED MUSCLES

J. L. writes: Is penicillin useful in muscle inflammation?

REPLY

Not unless muscular rheumatism is of bacterial origin, which seldom is the case. The condition usually is of traumatic or toxic origin.

METABOLISM

J. H. writes: Does a person with low metabolism usually have low blood pressure?

REPLY

No, but if the person is constitutionally inadequate he may specialize in lows — metabolism, blood pressure, and temperature.

DETOURED BLOOD

G. Z. writes: What information do you have on the portocaval shunt operation?

REPLY

This procedure is done in individuals with cirrhosis where the liver is so scarred it does not allow blood to flow from the intestinal organs to the heart. The operation consists of bypassing the liver by making an artifical connection between the large vein of the abdomen (portal) below and the large vein above that enters the heart (vena cava).

BURPING MOTHER

C. L. writes: My mother belches continuously. Is this due to nerves?

REPLY

Yes, and there also is a good possibility that she swallows air. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on air swallowing.

DROOPING SKIN

F. R. writes: What causes redundance of upper lid skin?

REPLY

Loss of elasticity of the tissues of the skin and muscles of the lids. This may come with age or illness.

RENAL COLIC

F. R. writes: What are the symptoms of kidney stones?

REPLY

Pain is the most common symptom. It varies from a dull ache over the flank on the involved side to the severe, excruciating pain of renal colic. Chills and fever may develop when the stones cause kidney infection.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

"You don't understand," continued the bride. "My husband CAN'T, but he DOES."

House Permits Are Issued

Two home permits totaling $21,000 were issued yesterday by the Allegany County Assessing Department.

John B. Wentling, RD 3, Bedford Road, indicated he plans to build a six-room dwelling at a cost of $12,000.

The home will have brick veneer walls, concrete block foundation and composition roof. Mr. Wentling said the 54-by-26 foot dwelling will have a cellar.

Ralph J. Clark, Grahamtown, was issued a permit to build a 26-by-42-foot frame dwelling at a cost of $9,000. The home will have a concrete block foundation, composition shingle roof and cellar.

Fire Damages Home In Area

A fire of unknown origin, but believed to be incendiary, damaged a four-room frame bungalow in Homewood Addition early yesterday.

O. H. Geiger, assistant chief of the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company, said the company received a call at 12:50 a. m. to a home owned by Eugene O'Neal. The house has been unoccupied in recent months, Chief Geiger said.

Damage, estimated at $500, was limited to the living room and furniture, with smoke and water being responsible for most of the damage.

Chief Geiger said neighbors informed him that two persons were seen driving away from the home shortly before the fire was discovered.

Ten members of the company responded to the alarm, with the firefighters being out more than an hour and a half.

The State Police also visited the scene of the fire yesterday and conducted an investigation.

Fire Damages Home In Area

A fire of unknown origin, but believed to be incendiary, damaged a four-room frame bungalow in Homewood Addition early yesterday.

O. H. Geiger, assistant chief of the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company, said the company received a call at 12:50 a. m. to a home owned by Eugene O'Neal. The house has been unoccupied in recent months, Chief Geiger said.

Damage, estimated at $500, was limited to the living room and furniture, with smoke and water being responsible for most of the damage.

Chief Geiger said neighbors informed him that two persons were seen driving away from the home shortly before the fire was discovered.

Ten members of the company responded to the alarm, with the firefighters being out more than an hour and a half.

The State Police also visited the scene of the fire yesterday and conducted an investigation.

PSC Grad Wins Ogden Scholarship

KEYSER — Robert W. Pendergast, a recent graduate of Potomac State College, has been awarded one of the H. C. Ogden Memorial scholarships for study at West Virginia University, according to Dean Warren K. Agee of the School of Journalism.

Edgar F. Myers of Parkersburg, was also named recipient of one of the awards, which were instituted by the News Publishing Company of Wheeling in 1945. The grants were increased from $100 to $200 each this year to cover the special entrance fee imposed by the last Legislature as well as regular tuition.

The scholarships are in memory of Ogden, who began his newspaper career as a reporter for the Wheeling Register and, at the time of his death in 1943, owned a large group of West Virginia newspapers, mostly dailies.

Pendergast is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Pendergast, F Street. He has a grade-point average of 3.0. During the past year he served as editor of the Pasquino, student publication at Potomac State College. He will be transferred to WVU as a junior in the School of Journalism.

Two other brothers have preceded him as editors of the Pasquino and as students at WVU. Both Thomas and Richard Pendergast are now engaged in newspaper work in New Orleans, La.

W.Va. To Check Insurance Fees

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —The West Virginia Insurance Commission plans to start keeping tabs on certain businesses and lending institutions which it feels may be charging excessive insurance rates.

Commissioner C. Judson Pearson said Tuesday he had information to indicate some banks, small loan companies, auto finance companies and appliance dealers were putting too big a bite on creditors for life, sickness and accident insurance.

Effective July 15, Pearson said, all such rates must be submitted to his office. He said they would be studied to determine if "benefits provided are unreasonable in relation to the premium charges."

W.Va. Reports One New Case Polio

PSC Grad Wins Ogden Scholarship

KEYSER — Robert W. Pendergast, a recent graduate of Potomac State College, has been awarded one of the H. C. Ogden Memorial scholarships for study at West Virginia University, according to Dean Warren K. Agee of the School of Journalism.

Edgar F. Myers of Parkersburg, was also named recipient of one of the awards, which were instituted by the News Publishing Company of Wheeling in 1945. The grants were increased from $100 to $200 each this year to cover the special entrance fee imposed by the last Legislature as well as regular tuition.

The scholarships are in memory of Ogden, who began his newspaper career as a reporter for the Wheeling Register and, at the time of his death in 1943, owned a large group of West Virginia newspapers, mostly dailies.

Pendergast is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Pendergast, F Street. He has a grade-point average of 3.0. During the past year he served as editor of the Pasquino, student publication at Potomac State College. He will be transferred to WVU as a junior in the School of Journalism.

Two other brothers have preceded him as editors of the Pasquino and as students at WVU. Both Thomas and Richard Pendergast are now engaged in newspaper work in New Orleans, La.

W.Va. To Check Insurance Fees

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —The West Virginia Insurance Commission plans to start keeping tabs on certain businesses and lending institutions which it feels may be charging excessive insurance rates.

Commissioner C. Judson Pearson said Tuesday he had information to indicate some banks, small loan companies, auto finance companies and appliance dealers were putting too big a bite on creditors for life, sickness and accident insurance.

Effective July 15, Pearson said, all such rates must be submitted to his office. He said they would be studied to determine if "benefits provided are unreasonable in relation to the premium charges."

Safety Rules Suggested For Deep Creek

Police And Game Warden Interested

OAKLAND — Corporal Samuel Conrad of the Maryland State Police stationed in Oakland has listed four safety measures for the Deep Creek Lake Assocation to give the members.

1. Leave your name, address and telephone number in your cabin window so you may be contacted if necessary.

2. All articles in the cottage should be marked so you will know them and record serial numbers of all equipment and furnishings.

3. All persons should register their cottage at the information booth. It would aid in directing and locating folks.

4. It would be good to have a Directory of property owners by sections on the lake.

Leo Friend, game warden of the Maryland Game Inland Fish Commission also offers several safety points:

1. Have life preservers for each person in the boat.

2. Provide your boat with light at night.

3. Display the boat license, but not on the back of the boat.

4. If you have a cottage name, put your name under it.

5. It would be good to have your name on your dock.

Folks coming to the county for the first time, have asked about building permits. It is reported that a permit is needed for building or remodeling costing $500 or more, and can be obtained at the assessors office in the Court House here.

E. L. Beansey, district manager of the Deep Creek district of the Pennsylvania Electric Company was asked to be the speaker.

A question and answer period followed his talk, and the meeting adjourned at 12 o'clock.

But the passing of 71 - year - old Millham set off a furor Tuesday. The Charleston Daily Mail front - paged an editorial referring to Millham's death as "an unforgiveable tragedy which reflects the blackest discredit on the whole community."

The story had its beginning last week. Some residents of the area where Millham lived discovered he was seriously ill in his tiny abode. They attempted to get him admitted to a hospital. They said they were rebuffed because the man didn't have money.

A woman who said she couldn't stand it any longer" put up $100 herself two days later and got Millham admitted to a hospital. But he died of heart trouble and other ailments on Monday.

WESTERNPORT—Local residents are going to have to cut down on the use of water for washing cars and watering lawns and gardens due to a shortage of water in this community.

However the water shortage has not reached the acute stage, according to the Mayor and Council, who have ordered the curtailment of unnecessary use of water during the current hot weather.

Bernard Guy, operator of the filtration plant on Westernport Hill checked the reservoir last night and there was 11½ feet of water in the compound which usually holds up to 17 feet of water.

He said 545,000 gallons of water are being pumped daily into the reservoir from the Savage River dam above Bloomington. A check with the storage tank near Bruce High School shows that a foot of water covers the bottom of the huge tank.

Any person arrested and found guilty on a charge of using water to wash vehicles, or watering gardens and lawns at this time is subject to a $25 fine or three days in jail in accordance with City Ordinance 10.

It was pointed out last night that residents are getting an ample supply for household and personal use although some are using more than usual due to the current hot, dry spell.

Safety Rules Suggested For Deep Creek

Police And Game Warden Interested

OAKLAND — Corporal Samuel Conrad of the Maryland State Police stationed in Oakland has listed four safety measures for the Deep Creek Lake Association to give the members.

1. Leave your name, address and telephone number in your cabin window so you may be contacted if necessary.

2. All articles in the cottage should be marked so you will know them and record serial numbers of all equipment and furnishings.

3. All persons should register their cottage at the information booth. It would aid in directing and locating folks.

4. It would be good to have a Directory of property owners by sections on the lake.

Leo Friend, game warden of the Maryland Game Inland Fish Commission also offers several safety points:

1. Have life preservers for each person in the boat.

2. Provide your boat with light at night.

3. Display the boat license, but not on the back of the boat.

4. If you have a cottage name, put your name under it.

5. It would be good to have your name on your dock.

Folks coming to the county for the first time, have asked about building permits. It is reported that a permit is needed for building or remodeling costing $500 or more, and can be obtained at the assessors office in the Court House here.

E. L. Beansey, district manager of the Deep Creek district of the Pennsylvania Electric Company was asked to be the speaker.

A question and answer period followed his talk, and the meeting adjourned at 12 o'clock.

Preston County Rural Mail Delivery Service Undergoes Modernization

KINGWOOD — Effective Wednesday, a much needed improvement and modernization of the mail service within Preston county was inaugurated.

Rural routes formerly emanating from Hazelton, Clifton Mills and Brandonville are now transferred to Bruceton Mills, and all mails for these offices and Pisgah will be handled through Bruceton Mills.

This rearrangement of rural delivery service has enabled the discontinuance of four obsolete box delivery star routes and, together with the establishment of new Star Route 55149, Kingwood by Albright to Bruceton Mills, will simplify and improve the transportation of mails between Kingwood, the county seat, and the northern part of Preston county.

New Star Route 55149 will perform two round trips daily, affording Bruceton Mills and the entire surrounding area with an early morning receipt of mails from Morgantown, Kingwood and Baltimore and Ohio train connections at Terra Alta with an afternoon dispatch enabling next day delivery of mails to points as far distant as Pittsburgh, Washington, Charleston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Richmond. Mails from Cincinnati, Parkersburg, Huntington, Charleston and their respective connections received from Baltimore and Ohio Train 4 at Terra Alta will be advanced a full day in delivery to the Bruceton Mills area, while outgoing mails from this office to eastern and southern points such as Baltimore, Philadelphia and Richmond will be expedited in the same degree as compared to present service through the new dispatch made available to Baltimore and Ohio Train 12 at Terra Alta.

Bus trips have been established between Morgantown, Kingwood, Oakland (Md.) and Keyser to supplement conventional star route and railroad transportation. The benefits of this new bus service, through its contact with Kingwood and Terra Alta, will also be available to all other parts of the county. It enables mails from Pittsburgh, mailed as late as 12:30 a.m., to be delivered throughout the county the same day, while one trip of the service allows Oakland, Terra Alta, Kingwood and their tributary offices an opportunity to dispatch mails as late as 7:30 p.m. (DST), assuring next day delivery in Pittsburg and Wheeling and their large surrounding metropolitan areas.

A much desired improvement will be achieved in the southern part of the county through the extension of a star route from Aurora to Eglon and Horse Shoe Run, which will allow the latter two communities a four-hour later dispatch than is now available.

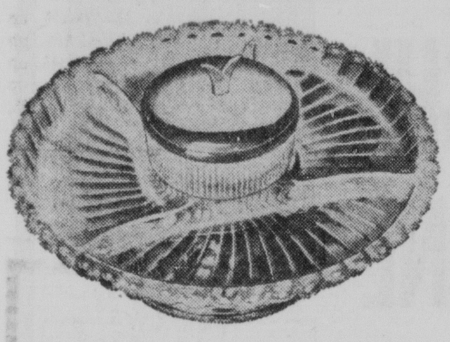

These rather sweeping changes were the result of thorough investigations by field officials.

Preston County Rural Mail Delivery Service Undergoes Modernization

KINGWOOD — Effective Wednesday, a much needed improvement and modernization of the mail service within Preston county was inaugurated.

Rural routes formerly emanating from Hazelton, Clifton Mills and Brandonville are now transferred to Bruceton Mills, and all mails for these offices and Pisgah will be handled through Bruceton Mills.

This rearrangement of rural delivery service has enabled the discontinuance of four obsolete box delivery star routes and, together with the establishment of new Star Route 55149, Kingwood by Albright to Bruceton Mills, will simplify and improve the transportation of mails between Kingwood, the county seat, and the northern part of Preston county.

New Star Route 55149 will perform two round trips daily, affording Bruceton Mills and the entire surrounding area with an early morning receipt of mails from Morgantown, Kingwood and Baltimore and Ohio train connections at Terra Alta with an afternoon dispatch enabling next day delivery of mails to points as far distant as Pittsburgh, Washington, Charleston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Richmond. Mails from Cincinnati, Parkersburg, Huntington, Charleston and their respective connections received from Baltimore and Ohio Train 4 at Terra Alta will be advanced a full day in delivery to the Bruceton Mills area, while outgoing mails from this office to eastern and southern points such as Baltimore, Philadelphia and Richmond will be expedited in the same degree as compared to present service through the new dispatch made available to Baltimore and Ohio Train 12 at Terra Alta.

Lown Saves Chisox Win In Ninth

Tribe Lead Cut; Buccos Drop 1-0 Tilt To Conley

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Turk Lown throttled a ninth - inning Cleveland rally and preserved a 6-5 victory for the Chicago White Sox Wednesday night that moved them within one game of the first-place Indians.

The White Sox scored three runs in the second inning and then knocked out Tribe starter Jim Grant in the third when they increased their lead to 4-2.

The margin grew to 6-3 until Woodie Held's two-run homer in the ninth. It was Held's 15th homer of the season and came off Gerry Staley, who relieved starter Barry Latman in the sixth. Lown finally retired the side in the ninth.

The Indians had gone ahead, 2-0, against Latman in the first on George Strickland's bases-loaded single. Latman, though replaced by Staley, received credit for his second victory. He has lost twice.

Conley Blanks Pirates, 1 To 0

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Big Gene Conley went all the way with a five - hitter Wednesday night, pitching the Philadelphia Phillies to a 1-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Giant Gene, winning his sixth of the season, fanned eight and walked one, beating Ron Kline in a tight duel which saw Richie Ashburn bat home the deciding run in the third inning.

Joe Koppe walked with two out in the third and then stole second to set up the game's only run. Ashburn lined a single to right and the Phillies' shortstop raced home.

Ladies PGA Opens Today

Suggs, Wright, Rawls Favored

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (UPI) — The ladies PGA settles its annual golf championship this weekend with at least three swingers expected to battle it out for first prize money of $1,200.

More than two dozen of the nation's top feminine pros were announced for the 72-hole affair over the French Lick - Sheraton Country Club course, which opens with the initial 18-hole round Thursday.

The top contenders included Betsy Rawls, leading money winner so far this year with nearly $11,300, Louise Suggs, and Mickey Wright.

Miss Rawls has won five tourneys this year, more than any other swinger on the gold dust trail. Miss Wright won her third tourney of the year at Pittsburgh Saturday, winning the Women's National Open for a history-making second straight time.

Legion Loses, 5-3; Post's Is Victor

The Old Germans handed the previously undefeated Ridgeley Legion tossers their first defeat yesterday at Fort Hill, snapping the Legion's six-game winning skein, 5-3, behind Pickle Doolin's five-hit pitching.

The Germans salted the victory away in the first three innings when they scored all their runs, capped by a three-run explosion in the third. The Legion scored single tallies in the second, third and fifth innings.

Ronnie Carcell paced the Germans attack with a triple and two-bagger while Mike Lease chipped in with a pair of singles. Ed Barley had two hits for the losers and losing pitcher Bill Kenney smacked a double.

The three-run rally in the third by the Germans featured singles by Junior Eversole and Lease, an error and Carcella's double.

At Rolling Mill field the Potomac Edison defeated the Marine Reserves, 7-4, for their third win of the season. The loss was the sixth in seven starts for the Marines.

Ed Downton hammered out three doubles for the winners while Bill Eckard and Skip Ross each collected a pair of singles. Pete Wageley smashed a two-run homer for the Marines in the first inning and Barnhart hit a two-bagger.

Post's Playground won its sixth game by turning back the Sports Shoppe, 7-2, at Naval Reserve field. Moe Barrett pitched a three-hitter to best Rich Smith.

Bob Williams clouted a two-run homer in the fifth and Ivan Abe hit for the circuit in the sixth for Post's while Leo Williams had a pair of singles for the winners. Wayne Holley collected two of the Sports Shoppe's three bingles. The scores:

Terry Blanks Orioles, 4-0

Baltimore Drops Into 2d Division

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Ralph Terry blanked the Baltimore Orioles with four scattered hits Wednesday night, 4-0, to help the New York Yankees drop the Orioles into the secoond division after 70 consecutive days in the top four.

It was the fourth straight loss for the Orioles, first time this year they have dropped that many in a row. Four times previously they managed to halt three-game losing streaks.

The Yankees collected a total of eight hits off Skinny Brown, who hurled seven innings and took his third loss in eight decisions, and reliever Billy Loes, who gave up the final two runs in the eighth and ninth innings.

Norm Siebern's 10th homer of the year in the second inning was all young Terry needed as he gained his third victory against five losses. It also was his first triumph as a Yankee after losing his only previous start to these same Orioles.

Cubs Defeat St. Louis In Ninth, 6 To 5

Late Rally Hands McDaniel 9th Loss

CHICAGO (UPI)—Bobby Thomson singled with one out in the ninth Wednesday to score Ernie Banks from second base and give the Chicago Cubs a 6-5 come-from-behind win over the St. Louis Cardinals to hold fifth place in the National League race.

The Cubs erupted for four runs off starter Ernie Broglio and reliever Lindy McDaniel to tie the game in the eighth inning. Banks opened the ninth with a single and reached second on Dale Long's infield out to set up the winning run on Thomson's hit.

McDaniel, pitching only one and one-third innings, suffered his ninth loss, allowing two of the Cubs' runs.

The Cardinals clipped Cubs' starter John Buzhardt for all their runs in six innings, and Don Elston, the third Chicago hurler, who worked only one inning, was credited with his fifth win.

In the eighth, Broglio, who had allowed only five hits previously, walked both Long and Thomson and, after Lee Walls singled for one run, McDaniel relieved him. Sammy Taylor flied out but Walt Moryn got a pinch single for one run and, after Tony Taylor grounded out, advancing both runners, Alvin Dark singled for the tieing scores.

Elks Score 5th Frostburg Win

The Elks scored their fifth win of the Frostburg Little League season yesterday by turning back the Knights of Columbus, 4-3, with a three-run rally in the seventh inning.

The two teams battled to a 1-1 deadlock in the regulation six innings before the K. of C. nine took the lead with two runs in the top of the first overtime frame. But the Elks bounced back with three runs to win the game in the bottom half of the inning.

Kenny Fike had a homer and single to pace the Knights of Columbus hitting attack while Stuart Shaner collected three singles for the Elks.

Tonight at 6 o'clock the Eagles and Rotary Club teams will meet on the Frostburg diamond. Tuesday the Elks defeated the Eagles, 8-2, and the Lions beat the Republican Club, 13-3. The score:

Laughing Greek Is Victor In Delaware Feature

STANTON, Del., July 1 (AP)—Leon DeLeon's Laughing Greek, who had won the first of Delaware Park's Montchanin Handicap series a week ago thanks to the disqualification of Sol Pitel's Westward Ho, came right back to defeat that same rival today and without benefit of a disqualification.

Today's mile and a sixteenth second version of the Montchanin, run each Wednesday with distance and purse increased weekly, saw Laughing Greek taking an early lead and holding it without being fully extended. At the wire, the colt held four lengths to spare over Westward Ho, while the latter outfinished Melvin H. Schlosberg's Lord Gregor by three-quarters of a length for the place. The time on a track which was fast despite an overnight deluge was 1:44 4/5.

East All-Stars Defeat West, 12-6, In Pony League

The Eastern team, composed of players from Ellerslie, Cresaptown and LaVale, scored seven runs in the first two innings to hand Lonaconing's Marvin Miller the loss. Wayne Howell of Ellerslie smashed a three-run homer in the eighth to ice the decision for the winners. John Lowery of Ellerslie and Kelly of LaVale each had two hits to pace the East's 10-hit attack.

Vincent Cantania of Frostburg's Pony Leaguers smashed a first-inning three-run circuit blast to put his West team in front briefly. Allan Eisel of Frostburg chipped in with a three-bagger for the losers who were managed by Robert Goldsworthy.

Dan Dodgers, Indians Score In Little Loop

The Dodgers scored their third victory in four starts in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan Little League yesterday by turning back the Senators, 9-2, at Stitcher Field, while the Indians captured their first win with a come-from-behind 10-9 decision over the Braves at East Side.

The Dodgers broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth with four runs and then iced the game with three more in the sixth with an 11-hit attack against the Senators.

Ronnie Flora was the victor in relief of Larry Imes while Cornelius absorbed the loss.

Terry Lease banged out a double and a pair of triples, Larry Ort had a triple and two-bagger and Tom Stitcher collected a double and single for the Dodgers. Wilt had two singles for the Senators.

The Indians gained the winning column for the first time when back-to-back homers by Tom Birmingham and Alvin Harris plated three runs in the sixth inning to edge the Braves.

Trailing 9-7 with two out, Birmingham, who earlier hit a three-run homer in the third, banged out his fourth consecutive hit and second circuit clout with a mate aboard to knot the score. Harris then followed with the winning blast to pin the fourth straight defeat on the Braves.

Doug Mackert hit for the circuit for the Braves while Tom Daniels also belted a three-run blast for the Indians in the second. The scores:

Lions, Jaycees Win Hot Stove League Games

B'nai B'rith, Elks Bow In Contests

The Jaycees edged the Elks, 9-7, and the Lions battered B'nai B'rith, 19-4, in Hot Stove League games yesterday at Penn Avenue field.

The Elks bowed for the fourth time this year as the Jaycees handed John Sloan his first defeat after four victories, tagging the lefthander for seven runs in the first two innings. The game was the first of a twin-bill at Penn Avenue.

Jim Snyder, Leroy Reuschel and Pat Wilson each had three hits in the Jaycees' 13-hit attack. Gary Zembower belted two hits and Grove hit for the circuit in a losing cause for the Elks.

In the nightcap the Lions pounded four B'nai B'rith hurlers for 21 hits in a game which was called in the top of the sixth inning with the Lions batting. The umpires called the contest as it began to rain with the victors having scored five runs with only one out, noting that under league rules after five innings a game is over when one team leads by 15 runs.

Mike Miller pounded out five hits, including two home runs, one a grand slam belt in the third inning. He also collected a two-bagger in his batting spree. Jerry Sisk had four singles and Jimmy Bell smacked out a homer, triple and single. Wally Harper also hit for the circuit in the Lions' assault.

Peters' three-run homer in the third was the big blow for the losers. The scores:

Stitch Scores 1st Round TKO Over Sawyer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Rudell Stitch, a Louisville church elder, boosted his stock as a welterweight title contender sharply Wednesday when he stopped Rudy Sawyer of New York in two minutes and 15 seconds of the first round.

The nationally-televised bout was automatically stopped when Stitch caught the wobbly Sawyer with a thunderous right to the side of the head to floor him for the third time in the round.

Seconds later Stitch tagged him with a left jab as he bounced off the ropes and he reeled across the ring to fall on the opposite side. Sawyer was up again quickly but walked right into the right to the head which wrote an end to the fight.

The TKO was especially notable since Sawyer, although unranked, had won 18 of 21 fights and had never been knocked off his feet before.

For Stitch, the No. 2 contender in the NBA ratings, it was his 21st victory and 11th knockout against only five defeats in his short professional career.

Eagles, Giants Trade Players

Scott And McAfee Swapped In Deal

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Eagles traded veteran lineman Tom Scott to the New York Giants for Ken McAfee, an offensive end, and Gerry Huth, an offensive guard returning from Army service, it was announced Wednesday.

Scott hinted, however, he might retire from football to devote all his time to his job as a public relations counselor for a local firm.

Scott, 29, a University of Virginia product obtained from the Los Angeles Rams in 1953, was a defensive end until last season when he was shifted to linebacker with the advent of the five-man line.

McAfee, 30, a graduate of the University of Alabama, was signed by the Giants as a free agent in 1953 after playing with the Marines. Huth, 25-year-old Wake Forest alumnus, was a rookie on the Giants' 1956 team.

Lown Saves Chisox Win In Ninth

Tribe Lead Cut; Buccos Drop 1-0 Tilt To Conley

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Turk Lown throttled a ninth - inning Cleveland rally and preserved a 6-5 victory for the Chicago White Sox Wednesday night that moved them within one game of the first-place Indians.

The White Sox scored three runs in the second inning and then knocked out Tribe starter Jim Grant in the third when they increased their lead to 4-2.

The margin grew to 6-3 until Woodie Held's two-run homer in the ninth. It was Held's 15th homer of the season and came off Gerry Staley, who relieved starter Barry Latman in the sixth. Lown finally retired the side in the ninth.

The Indians had gone ahead, 2-0, against Latman in the first on George Strickland's bases-loaded single. Latman, though replaced by Staley, received credit for his second victory. He has lost twice.

Conley Blanks Pirates, 1 To 0

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Big Gene Conley went all the way with a five - hitter Wednesday night, pitching the Philadelphia Phillies to a 1-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Giant Gene, winning his sixth of the season, fanned eight and walked one, beating Ron Kline in a tight duel which saw Richie Ashburn bat home the deciding run in the third inning.

Joe Koppe walked with two out in the third and then stole second to set up the game's only run. Ashburn lined a single to right and the Phillies' shortstop raced home.

Suggs, Wright, Rawls Favored

Legion Loses, 5-3; Post's Is Victor

The Old Germans handed the previously undefeated Ridgeley Legion tossers their first defeat yesterday at Fort Hill, snapping the Legion's six-game winning skein, 5-3, behind Pickle Doolin's five-hit pitching.

The Germans salted the victory away in the first three innings when they scored all their runs, capped by a three-run explosion in the third. The Legion scored single tallies in the second, third and fifth innings.

Ronnie Carcell paced the Germans attack with a triple and two-bagger while Mike Lease chipped in with a pair of singles. Ed Barley had two hits for the losers and losing pitcher Bill Kenney smacked a double.

The three-run rally in the third by the Germans featured singles by Junior Eversole and Lease, an error and Carcella's double.

Ed Downton hammered out three doubles for the winners while Bill Eckard and Skip Ross each collected a pair of singles. Pete Wageley smashed a two-run homer for the Marines in the first inning and Barnhart hit a two-bagger.

Terry Blanks Orioles, 4-0

Baltimore Drops Into 2d Division

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Ralph Terry blanked the Baltimore Orioles with four scattered hits Wednesday night, 4-0, to help the New York Yankees drop the Orioles into the secoond division after 70 consecutive days in the top four.

It was the fourth straight loss for the Orioles, first time this year they have dropped that many in a row. Four times previously they managed to halt three-game losing streaks.

The Yankees collected a total of eight hits off Skinny Brown, who hurled seven innings and took his third loss in eight decisions, and reliever Billy Loes, who gave up the final two runs in the eighth and ninth innings.

Norm Siebern's 10th homer of the year in the second inning was all young Terry needed as he gained his third victory against five losses. It also was his first triumph as a Yankee after losing his only previous start to these same Orioles.

Cubs Defeat St. Louis In Ninth, 6 To 5

Late Rally Hands McDaniel 9th Loss

CHICAGO (UPI)—Bobby Thomson singled with one out in the ninth Wednesday to score Ernie Banks from second base and give the Chicago Cubs a 6-5 come-from-behind win over the St. Louis Cardinals to hold fifth place in the National League race.

The Cubs erupted for four runs off starter Ernie Broglio and reliever Lindy McDaniel to tie the game in the eighth inning. Banks opened the ninth with a single and reached second on Dale Long's infield out to set up the winning run on Thomson's hit.

McDaniel, pitching only one and one-third innings, suffered his ninth loss, allowing two of the Cubs' runs.

The Cardinals clipped Cubs' starter John Buzhardt for all their runs in six innings, and Don Elston, the third Chicago hurler, who worked only one inning, was credited with his fifth win.

In the eighth, Broglio, who had allowed only five hits previously, walked both Long and Thomson and, after Lee Walls singled for one run, McDaniel relieved him. Sammy Taylor flied out but Walt Moryn got a pinch single for one run and, after Tony Taylor grounded out, advancing both runners, Alvin Dark singled for the tieing scores.

Kenny Fike had a homer and single to pace the Knights of Columbus hitting attack while Stuart Shaner collected three singles for the Elks.

Laughing Greek Is Victor In Delaware Feature

STANTON, Del., July 1 (AP)—Leon DeLeon's Laughing Greek, who had won the first of Delaware Park's Montchanin Handicap series a week ago thanks to the disqualification of Sol Pitel's Westward Ho, came right back to defeat that same rival today and without benefit of a disqualification.

Today's mile and a sixteenth second version of the Montchanin, run each Wednesday with distance and purse increased weekly, saw Laughing Greek taking an early lead and holding it without being fully extended. At the wire, the colt held four lengths to spare over Westward Ho, while the latter outfinished Melvin H. Schlosberg's Lord Gregor by three-quarters of a length for the place. The time on a track which was fast despite an overnight deluge was 1:44 4/5.

Dan Dodgers, Indians Score In Little Loop

The Dodgers scored their third victory in four starts in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan Little League yesterday by turning back the Senators, 9-2, at Stitcher Field, while the Indians captured their first win with a come-from-behind 10-9 decision over the Braves at East Side.

The Dodgers broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth with four runs and then iced the game with three more in the sixth with an 11-hit attack against the Senators.

Ronnie Flora was the victor in relief of Larry Imes while Cornelius absorbed the loss.

Terry Lease banged out a double and a pair of triples, Larry Ort had a triple and two-bagger and Tom Stitcher collected a double and single for the Dodgers. Wilt had two singles for the Senators.

The Indians gained the winning column for the first time when back-to-back homers by Tom Birmingham and Alvin Harris plated three runs in the sixth inning to edge the Braves.

Trailing 9-7 with two out, Birmingham, who earlier hit a three-run homer in the third, banged out his fourth consecutive hit and second circuit clout with a mate aboard to knot the score. Harris then followed with the winning blast to pin the fourth straight defeat on the Braves.

Doug Mackert hit for the circuit for the Braves while Tom Daniels also belted a three-run blast for the Indians in the second. The scores:

Lions, Jaycees Win Hot Stove League Games

B'nai B'rith, Elks Bow In Contests

The Jaycees edged the Elks, 9-7, and the Lions battered B'nai B'rith, 19-4, in Hot Stove League games yesterday at Penn Avenue field.

The Elks bowed for the fourth time this year as the Jaycees handed John Sloan his first defeat after four victories, tagging the lefthander for seven runs in the first two innings. The game was the first of a twin-bill at Penn Avenue.

Jim Snyder, Leroy Reuschel and Pat Wilson each had three hits in the Jaycees' 13-hit attack. Gary Zembower belted two hits and Grove hit for the circuit in a losing cause for the Elks.

In the nightcap the Lions pounded four B'nai B'rith hurlers for 21 hits in a game which was called in the top of the sixth inning with the Lions batting. The umpires called the contest as it began to rain with the victors having scored five runs with only one out, noting that under league rules after five innings a game is over when one team leads by 15 runs.

Mike Miller pounded out five hits, including two home runs, one a grand slam belt in the third inning. He also collected a two-bagger in his batting spree. Jerry Sisk had four singles and Jimmy Bell smacked out a homer, triple and single. Wally Harper also hit for the circuit in the Lions' assault.

Peters' three-run homer in the third was the big blow for the losers. The scores:

Stitch Scores 1st Round TKO Over Sawyer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Rudell Stitch, a Louisville church elder, boosted his stock as a welterweight title contender sharply Wednesday when he stopped Rudy Sawyer of New York in two minutes and 15 seconds of the first round.

The nationally-televised bout was automatically stopped when Stitch caught the wobbly Sawyer with a thunderous right to the side of the head to floor him for the third time in the round.

Sawyer first hit the deck midway in the round when Stitch hit him with a sharp right hook to the jaw. Sawyer slipped to his knees, grasping Stitch around the waist, and was waved to his corner for an automatic eight-count.

Seconds later Stitch tagged him with a left jab as he bounced off the ropes and he reeled across the ring to fall on the opposite side. Sawyer was up again quickly but walked right into the right to the head which wrote an end to the fight.

The TKO was especially notable since Sawyer, although unranked, had won 18 of 21 fights and had never been knocked off his feet before.

For Stitch, the No. 2 contender in the NBA ratings, it was his 21st victory and 11th knockout against only five defeats in his short professional career.

Eagles, Giants Trade Players

Scott And McAfee Swapped In Deal

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Eagles traded veteran lineman Tom Scott to the New York Giants for Ken McAfee, an offensive end, and Gerry Huth, an offensive guard returning from Army service, it was announced Wednesday.

Scott hinted, however, he might retire from football to devote all his time to his job as a public relations counselor for a local firm.

Scott, 29, a University of Virginia product obtained from the Los Angeles Rams in 1953, was a defensive end until last season when he was shifted to linebacker with the advent of the five-man line.

McAfee, 30, a graduate of the University of Alabama, was signed by the Giants as a free agent in 1953 after playing with the Marines. Huth, 25-year-old Wake Forest alumnus, was a rookie on the Giants' 1956 team.

Alex Olmedo Advances, MacKay Defeated At Wimbledon

Barry Drops 5-Setter In Semi-Finals

Laver Is Victor In Net Marathon; Emerson Defeated

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Top-seeded Alex Olmedo marched ahead with machine-like efficiency but his U.S. Davis Cup Teammate, Barry MacKay, bowed out fighting in a marathon five-setter Wednesday in the semifinals of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

Olmedo, losing only one service and master all the way, erased Australia's No. 2 ace, Roy Emerson, in exactly 60 minutes, 6-4, 6-0, 6-4.

Wins Long Match

Laver won 11-13, 11-9, 10-8, 7-9, 6-3 in a match which swayed back and forth for 3 hours and 45 minutes. The bitter, exhausting struggle reached its high point in the fourth set when MacKay, trailing 2-5 at one stage, fought off five match points and finally won the set to level the match.

He shot ahead 3-1 in the decisive fifth set but confidence and control suddenly deserted him and Laver reeled off five games in a row.

"No excuses," MacKay puffed later. "Laver was too good, that's all. I seemed to lose my confidence."

Olmedo Favored

Olmedo, the Peruvian living and going to school in Los Angeles, is overwhelmingly favored to take the title earmarked for him ever since he carried the United States to victory in the Davis Cup challenge round last December.

The women's semifinals are scheduled Thursday with an all-American final a possibility, Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., plays Sandra Reynolds of South Africa. Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., meets Maria Bueno of Brazil.

Senate May Force Third Major League

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Shea, chairman of Mayor Robert Wagner's Baseball Committee, said Wednesday a Senate Antitrust subcommittee had offered to force organized baseball to create a third major league if the sport's officials did not do so willingly.

Shea said that he had suggested to the committee that it wait until baseball's attitude on the situation could be fully determined. The major leagues have set down rules on the formation of a third league under which Shea and various others are now operating.

Casper To Defend Flint Open Title

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Bill Casper Jr., with two of golf's richest prizes in his bank account, shoots for another $9,000 plum Thursday when he begins defense of his Flint Open championship.

The round man from Chula Vista, Calif., pocketed $9,000 here last year. Since then, he won the U.S. Open, pulling down $12,000 top money.

Casper was one of the early arrivals in the field of 151 here this week for the $52,000 Flint Open.

Jones Is Sent To Cincinnati Reds

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds Wednesday obtained veteran third baseman Willie Jones from the Cleveland Indians.

Jones was the Philadelphia Phillies' regular third sacker from 1949 until June 5, when he was sent to Cleveland in exchange for outfielder Jim Bolger and cash.

Detroit Beats Athletics, 5-4, In Rain-Interrupted Contest

4-Run Rally In 7th Decides Tilt; Hadley, Cerv Homer

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers scored four times in the bottom of the seventh Wednesday to defeat the Kansas City Athletics, 5-4, in a game halted twice by rain.

Detroit starter Paul Foytack had a one-hitter going until the eighth-inning but the two delays, one of 10 minutes and another of 35 minutes began to tell on him and he needed help from Ray Narleski after Kent Hadley and Bob Cerv hit homers in the ninth.

But Foytack didn't allow another hit until Hal Smith singled with one out in the eighth.

Neil Chrisley produced Detroit's first run with a solo homer off Ned Garver in the fourth inning. It was only the second hit in 22 at bats this season for Chrisley.

The second delay occurred after Kansas City had batted in the seventh. Detroit came back after the delay to rout Garver and score four times on singles by Rocky Bridges and Eddie Yost, a double by Harvey Kuenn, an infield hit by Charlie Maxwell, a throwing error by Hadley and a single by Gus Zernial.

Detroit needed all four of those runs since Lumpe opened the ninth with a base hit and Hadley drove his seventh homer of the season into the upper stands in right. Cerv also reached the right field seats after two were out.

Alex Olmedo Advances, MacKay Defeated At Wimbledon

Laver Is Victor In Net Marathon; Emerson Defeated

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Top-seeded Alex Olmedo marched ahead with machine-like efficiency but his U.S. Davis Cup Teammate, Barry MacKay, bowed out fighting in a marathon five-setter Wednesday in the semifinals of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

Olmedo, losing only one service and master all the way, erased Australia's No. 2 ace, Roy Emerson, in exactly 60 minutes, 6-4, 6-0, 6-4.

The storied center court, however, proved heartbreak house for MacKay, the limbering slugger from Dayton, Ohio, who gave it everything he had but still went down before Rod (The Rocket) Laver, a 20-year-old Australian lefthander.

Wins Long Match

Laver won 11-13, 11-9, 10-8, 7-9, 6-3 in a match which swayed back and forth for 3 hours and 45 minutes. The bitter, exhausting struggle reached its high point in the fourth set when MacKay, trailing 2-5 at one stage, fought off five match points and finally won the set to level the match.

He shot ahead 3-1 in the decisive fifth set but confidence and control suddenly deserted him and Laver reeled off five games in a row.

"No excuses," MacKay puffed later. "Laver was too good, that's all. I seemed to lose my confidence."

Olmedo Favored

Olmedo, the Peruvian living and going to school in Los Angeles, is overwhelmingly favored to take the title earmarked for him ever since he carried the United States to victory in the Davis Cup challenge round last December.

The women's semifinals are scheduled Thursday with an all-American final a possibility. Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., plays Sandra Reynolds of South Africa. Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., meets Maria Bueno of Brazil.

Senate May Force Third Major League

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Shea, chairman of Mayor Robert Wagner's Baseball Committee, said Wednesday a Senate Antitrust subcommittee had offered to force organized baseball to create a third major league if the sport's officials did not do so willingly.

Shea said that he had suggested to the committee that it wait until baseball's attitude on the situation could be fully determined. The major leagues have set down rules on the formation of a third league under which Shea and various others are now operating.

Casper To Defend Flint Open Title

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Bill Casper Jr., with two of golf's richest prizes in his bank account, shoots for another $9,000 plum Thursday when he begins defense of his Flint Open championship.

The round man from Chula Vista, Calif., pocketed $9,000 here last year. Since then, he won the U.S. Open, pulling down $12,000 top money.

Casper was one of the early arrivals in the field of 151 here this week for the $52,000 Flint Open.

Jones Is Sent To Cincinnati Reds

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds Wednesday obtained veteran third baseman Willie Jones from the Cleveland Indians.

Jones was the Philadelphia Phillies' regular third sacker from 1949 until June 5, when he was sent to Cleveland in exchange for outfielder Jim Bolger and cash.

Shenandoah Downs inaugurated the racing doubleheader on Memorial Day, attracting 10,367 fans who wagered more than a half a million dollars on 16 races. It was the first day-night racing twinbill held in America.

There will be only one admission and one parking fee charged for the two programs, General Manager Bob Leavitt announced.

Pen-Mar To Meet

The Pen-Mar Baseball League will meet Friday, 7:30 p. m. at Melody Manor, Barrelville, to discuss plans for the All-Star game and other league matters.

Ingo Is Defeated By Florida Fish

HILLSBORO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Heavyweight champ Ingemar Johansson Wednesday found Florida fish are harder to conquer than Floyd Patterson.

He went deep sea fishing for three hours but returned empty handed.

Ingemar will hold a news conference Thursday morning. He plans to leave Friday for New York and Sweden.

Game Date Changed

The Maryland - West Virginia Little League contest between Midland and Barton on the latter's diamond has been shifted from today until 1:30 p.m. Friday, league officials announced last night. Detroit Beats Athletics, 5-4, In Rain-Interrupted Contest

4-Run Rally In 7th Decides Tilt; Hadley, Cerv Homer

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers scored four times in the bottom of the seventh Wednesday to defeat the Kansas City Athletics, 5-4, in a game halted twice by rain.

Detroit starter Paul Foytack had a one-hitter going until the eighth-inning but the two delays, one of 10 minutes and another of 35 minutes began to tell on him and he needed help from Ray Narleski after Kent Hadley and Bob Cerv hit homers in the ninth.

But Foytack didn't allow another hit until Hal Smith singled with one out in the eighth.

Neil Chrisley produced Detroit's first run with a solo homer off Ned Garver in the fourth inning. It was only the second hit in 22 at bats this season for Chrisley.

The second delay occurred after Kansas City had batted in the seventh. Detroit came back after the delay to rout Garver and score four times on singles by Rocky Bridges and Eddie Yost, a double by Harvey Kuenn, an infield hit by Charlie Maxwell, a throwing error by Hadley and a single by Gus Zernial.

Detroit needed all four of those runs since Lumpe opened the ninth with a base hit and Hadley drove his seventh homer of the season into the upper stands in right. Cerv also reached the right field seats after two were out.

In today's hand, culled from a recent tournament, West can hardly be considered craven for passing his partner's opening bid, yet a shrewd declarer using silence as a clew, turned the tables against him to bring in a seemingly hopeless contract.

West opened the deuce of spades. East won with the ace and returned the seven. The South players, on winning the second trick, took a dim view of their prospects. Four losers appeared almost inevitable, but on the remote chance that West held the king of hearts, they took that finesse at once. East had merely to get out of the lead innocuously and wait for his two diamond tricks to defeat the contract.

Only one player succeeded in bringing in the game and he did so by betting on a very long shot, but he chose a long shot which had been overlooked by the other players. To place the king of hearts in the West hand seemed too remote, so he projected a play which would win if East held the king of hearts only once guarded.

He cashed the ace of hearts and ran three clubs. East discarded on the third round but now declarer exited with a heart which saddled East with the lead. East was helpless. A diamond return would set up dummy's king and a spade continuation would permit declarer to ruff in the dummy as he discarded one of his two diamonds from the South hand.

Had West led a diamond originally, or if East had played the jack of spades at trick one to promote a subsequent spade entry to his partner's hand, the contract could have been defeated. However we consider this to be a bit of Monday quarterbacking.

In Memoriam

In memory of Mrs. Lulu V. Silvious who passed away 3 years ago July 2, 1956.
The memory is with us today, as it was with us 3 years ago today.
Nobody knows our loss, but few have seen us weep.
But deep in our hearts lies a picture of a loved one laid to rest.
In memory's frame we shall keep it, as she was one of the best.
Her helping hand to those in need, but God knew best, so he called her home to rest.
The link that death cannot sever is the love and memory that will live forever.
Sadly missed by:
HUSBAND, CHILDREN & GRANDCHILDREN.

In Memoriam

In memory of Mrs. Lulu V. Silvious who passed away 3 years ago July 2, 1956.
The memory is with us today, as it was with us 3 years ago today.
Nobody knows our loss, but few have seen us weep.
But deep in our hearts lies a picture of a loved one laid to rest.
In memory's frame we shall keep it, as she was one of the best.
Her helping hand to those in need, but God knew best, so he called her home to rest.
The link that death cannot sever is the love and memory that will live forever.
Sadly missed by:
HUSBAND, CHILDREN & GRANDCHILDREN.

$32,500 Pledged As Industrial Drive Opens

11 Contributions Are $1,000 Or More

Pledges totaling $32,500 were made last night as community business and professional leaders opened a drive to finance the industrial promotion activities of the Cumberland Industrial Development Company.

The pledges, which represent about a third of the minimum goal for maintaining this area's industrial promotion effort, were made by 24 firms and individuals who attended a dinner meeting in the Cumberland Country Club.

Another 50 who attended were unable to make immediate pledges but are expected to do so when they have conferred with associates.

Among the top early pledges were the Potomac Edison Company, Works 7 of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and the Liberty Trust Company.

Eleven firms or individuals made immediate pledges of $1,000 or more last night, according to C. M. Sanner, campaign chairman.

Goal Is $100,000

He stressed that the minimum goal of $100,000 being sought will be used for industrial development efforts and that if capital funds are needed for buildings, another campaign would be needed.

Mr. Sanner indicated CIDC hopes to get at least $75,000 of its goal from the 160 representatives of firms and individuals invited to the meeting.

Some 500 other persons and firms will be invited to became members of the company, he said.

Past efforts of the community to get new industries were related by Former Chief Judge William C. Walsh.

He said the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation and Works 7 of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company located here as a result of community cooperation.

Mr. Sanner outlined the plan of operation of the CIDC which was formed to promote the social and economic well-being of the citizens of Allegany County by seeking to secure the location of new industries and the expansion of existing industries.

Necessary Step

Cumberland Industrial Development Company "is a necessary step in the right direction to help us meet our competition for new industries," reported Thomas W. Morris, industrial promotion manager.

It provides, he said, a vehicle not only for continuing the Cumberland area's industrial promotion effort but for meeting the financial needs of an industrial prospect.

Community-financed buildings into which a manufacturer can move with little, if any investment of its working capital in land or plant, he said, is one of the dominant factors in plant site selections by manufacturers.

He said CIDC's experience in processing hundreds of leads shows that seven of 10 or more firms seek either community participation in plant financing or the availability of an existing building or space which they can readily use on a lease or lease-purchase arrangement.

He said a number of communities with which Cumberland must compete have recognized the trend and have organized to meet the need.

Get New Plants

Strasburg, Va., he said, has obtained three new industries in recent years by community participation in plant financing.

Hazelton, Pa., with 42,000 people, since 1956, has helped four new industries create 910 new jobs with annual payrolls of close to $3,640,000. These are operating in 332,250 square feet of new plant space valued at $2,450,000. The new companies are General Foam Corporation, Capitol Products Corporation, Highway Trailer Company and Lewis Steel Products.

At Williamsport, with 45,047 people, four other industries have begun operations in community-financed plants since 1956. These have created 528 new industrial jobs with annual payrolls of $2,018,000. They use 196,000 feet of new plant space valued at $1,053,500. The companies are Steelex Corporation, Ille Electric Corporation, Vidmar, Inc. and Tetley Tea Co., Inc.

Teachers Tour Clay Mine

Twenty-three teachers from various sections of Maryland, visiting in Allegany County on a conservation tour, yesterday had the thrill of riding on small cars used to carry clay from a mine at Mt. Savage. On the extreme left is Martin M. Gordon, work unit conservationist of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service here, who conducted the tour of the county, which included points of interest such as the clay mine and a brick plant at Zihlman. Byran L. Ashbaugh, State Department of Research and Education, is the teacher for the group taking a summer course on the teaching of conservation of natural resources at the University of Maryland. The teachers will visit in Garrett County before returning to College Park.

Open-Air Church Services To Start Sunday At Park

The Cumberland Ministerial Association again will sponsor services at Constitution Park every Sunday evening during July and August, beginning this Sunday.

The association has assigned three or four ministers to conduct the service each week in the amphitheatre at the park. In the event of rain, the enclosed area next to the open-air theatre will be used.

This Sunday, Rev. Ralph Burnette, pastor of First Christian Church, will speak on the subject "The Challenge of a Conquering Christ." Assisting with other portions of the service will be Rev. H. E. Heckert, pastor of First Church of the Nazarene, and B. U. Smith, general secretary of Central YMCA.

Music will be provided by the Allegany County Homemakers Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Paul Gilford.

The hour of the service this year has been changed by the association. The service will be held at 5 p. m. instead of 7 p. m. to prevent a conflict with those churches which hold regular Sunday evening services.

It was decided by the ministerial group that the new hour will enable many people of the Cumberland area to visit the park in the late afternoon and stay later for the concerts which are presented at the same location.

Mrs. Lepley Joins Health Nursing Staff

Mrs. Betty J. Lepley, Bedford Road, has been assigned to the nursing staff of the Allegany County Health Department.

The new public health nurse will be in charge of the Potomac Valley section, succeeding Miss Margaret Morrissey, who has retired after 36 years of service as a public health nurse.

Mrs. Lepley is a native of Meyersdale, Pa., and has been a resident of the city for four years.

She graduated from the Germantown Hospital and Dispensary School of Nursing in Philadelphia in 1943. She served at Army hospitals at Langley Field, Va., and Pratt, Kan., during her 30 months of service as an Army nurse.

She completed University of Maryland extension courses in public health nursing and child nursing during the past year.

Leaves Jail, Back In Hour

Russell Fresh, 918 Gay Street, who ended a 15-day sentence in Allegany County jail yesterday afternoon, was back in jail within about an hour on a motor vehicle violation.

This morning he will be given a hearing in Trial Magistrate's Court on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license, authorities said.

He was arrested by State Police who noticed him driving a car from a local used car lot. On June 17, Fresh was nabbed by city police as he returned a car to a used car lot.

Police said the man pulled into Murphy's One Stop that evening and ordered gasoline which he didn't pay for.

When he appeared before Trial Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt, Fresh was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail for driving without a license and also 15 days for not paying for the gasoline.

Both sentences ran concurrently and Fresh was ordered to make restitution for the gas.

Premium List For '59 Fair Ready Soon

Several Exhibits Are Reorganized

The premium list for the 42nd annual Cumberland Fair, August 17-22, should be coming off the press any day.

Mrs. Martin Gordon, chief clerk in charge of compiling the premium list, said yesterday afternoon she began working on it last winter and still has a lot of unfinished work before the opening day of the Fair.

She said the premium list has been completely done over, especially in three departments, 4-H, household, and flowers.

A number of obsolete items have been eliminated in the 4-H department. Mrs. Gordon said garments now being made by club members have been added. This department is becoming more popular each year, she said.

Some flowers which will not endure for a week have been taken from the premium list. Those planning to enter flowers in competition are reminded to read this year's premium list closely.

Some flower arrangement classes have been changed, she said. Again this year they will be displayed in the Jockey Club at Fairgo.

Homemade candy and a prize cake are among the additions to the household department, Mrs. Gordon said.

About the same number of cattle entries are expected to compete for honors in the livestock exhibit of the Fair, said Joseph M. Steger, Allegany County farm agent.

The main exhibits at the Fair will include agricultural, livestock, poultry, ceramics, horticultural, pet stock, flower show, art exhibit and soil conservation. Antiques have been dropped from the premium list this year.

General manager of the Cumberland Fair Association is Harry J. Barton.

Woodlands In State Tinder-Dry

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Maryland woodlands, without a good soaking general rain since April or early May, are in highly inflammable condition for the July 4th weekend, the Department of Forests and Parks cautioned Wednesday.

Director Joseph F. Kaylor urged that motorists and others traveling to the mountains and beaches be extremely careful with cigaret stubs, matches and the general use of fire in wooded areas.

Of course, there may be a good rain before the holiday rush begins Friday. But foresters are taking no chances.

"We have already marshalled out statewide overhead personnel, equipment and forces into the most dangerous areas," he said. "But some good rains and a lot of public caution in the use of fire out of doors will be a great help."

"Conditions are not explosive," the forest chief said, "and folks who are careful can have a good time. The great danger is that fires carelessly set in the present inflammable condition of the woodlands can do a great deal of damage before they can be controlled."

He said the dry conditions had been accentuated by the recent heat wave and that thunder storms Tuesday night and early Wednesday did not alleviate them. They were largely localized in the Washington-Potomac River area, he noted.

The state has already had one large forest fire this week — in Dorchester County on the eastern shore. It burned over 150 to 200 acres of parched woodland and District Forester John Mohr had to call in prison labor forces to spell the regular forest fire fighters, volunteer citizens and local fire companies who battled through the night to contain it.

Water Supplies Are Adequate, Mayor Reports

Citizens Urged To Use Good Judgment

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said yesterday that Cumberland has a good water supply and citizens should use it wisely.

It is only good common sense, he said, to use good judgment.

If everyone is a little conservative with its use, he added, people will have nothing to worry about.

Mayor Keech said he had received at least six calls yesterday from citizens who wondered how the city's water supply was holding out.

One thing sure, he said, is that Cumberland does not have water to waste.

Mayor Keech reported he saw a man washing his car yesterday and letting the water stream from the nozzle at full blast as he wiped off the moisture.

No Present Danger

A similar picture of the water situation was given by Franklin J. Blaney, the city's new sanitary engineer.

He said he wants the people to know there is no present danger of a water shortage but that good common sense should be used until the rains resume.

People can rest assured, he said, that they will be notified from one to two months in advance if the city faces an actual water shortage.

Such advance notice, he said, will give people a chance to take moderate steps to preserve existing supplies and prevent drastic curtailment.

Mr. Blaney said it looks as if the city is in for a bad year on water supplies but is far enough into the year that no serious trouble is foreseen.

Leaks Are Stopped

Water officials are taking steps to stop leaks in city water lines and are suggesting that citizens do likewise.

Mr. Blaney said Water Department crews, headed by Simon Carroll, this week closed two leaks in city water lines in the Peavine Run area.

Other leaks are being repaired as fast as inspection crews locate them.

Officials suggested that citizens take steps to stop water leaks in their own homes. This will not only reduce water bills but will conserve supplies which cannot be replenished until the rains come.

Mr. Blaney concluded that as far as he can foresee, the City will get through the current drought with no need for concern.

Both city reservoirs were filled to the brim when the drought began four weeks ago.

Driver Faces Charge In Crash

Maryland State Police indicated last night that Durwood G. Roland, 42, of RD 1, Flintstone, who was the driver of a car struck by a motorcycl Tuesday night, will be charged with making an improper left turn.

Two persons riding on the cycle were hospitalized. William Richard Fansler, 35, of RD 2, Baltimore Pike, driver of the cycle, is reported "fair" in Sacred Heart Hospital, and Raymond E. Redinger, 14, of RD 2, Mt. Pleasant Road, passenger on the cycle, is reported "good."

Trooper Wayne Lewis said the driver of the car will be given a hearing later this month before Trial Magistrate Russell Nierman at Flintstone. The accident occurred about three-quarters of a mile west of that community on U.S. Route 40. Roland was not hurt in the crash, police said.

Heat Wave Relief Due Here Today

First Rainfall In Month Arrives

Cumberland and the surrounding area continued in the grip of the sweltering heat wave as the official temperature here yesterday hit the 98-degree mark.

The official reading was reported by Robert R. Golden, official weather observer in Constitution Park, while the unofficial downtown reading was 99 degrees at 1:30 p. m.

Yesterday marked the seventh straight day that the mercury topped the 90-degree mark in downtown Cumberland.

The high pressure area that was forecast to bring cooler air into this section early yesterday failed to arrive, and yesterday's reading was just one degree under the record 99 degrees set Tuesday.

The Weather Bureau predicted the slow-moving mass of cooler air would arrive sometime late last night or early this morning and bring the temperature down to its normal high for this time of the year, which is 80 to 86 degrees.

The cool air apparently arrived at about 10 p. m., when a fairly heavy rain began to fall on Cumberland. The temperature dropped about 10 degrees in less than an hour.

Girl, 5, Dies After Taking Sister's Pills

Funeral Today In Bedford Co.

A funeral service will be held today at 2 p. m. in the Woodbury (Pa.) Methodist Church for five-year-old Alice Marie Boor, who died Tuesday morning of an overdose of adult cold pills.

Rev. Donald Hurley will officiate and interment will be in Dry Hill Cemetery. The child was a daughter of Hilary and Edna (Henry) Boor, of Woodbury, Bedford County.

Authorities said that on Monday about 2 p. m. the child ate part of two bags of cold pills which had been prescribed by a physician for use by an older sister who had the flu about two weeks ago.

The parents were unaware the child had taken the pills. About 4 p. m. Monday the little girl became sick and told her parents she had eaten the pills.

A physician was summoned and when the child's condition became worse she was taken to the Nason Hospital in Roaring Springs, where she died about 7 a. m. Tuesday.

Howard Crawford, deputy coroner of Blair County, said death was due to the overdose of pills.

Besides her parents the victim is survived by two brothers, George H. Boor and Richard Boor and two sisters, Donna Mae Boor and Monna Faye Boor, all at home; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Henry, Loysburg, Pa., and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Boor, of Woodbury, Pa.

The budget was adopted for the year.

Preston Gets Year In Jail For Assault

Also Sentenced On Motor Charges

A 22-year-old Frostburg man, David William Preston, who earlier this week pleaded guilty to three motor vehicle violations and was found guilty of assault last night was sentenced to a year in the Maryland House of Correction by Trial Magistrate Thomas Barton at Cresaptown.

Preston will complete a six-month term in Allegany County Jail tomorrow. It was imposed January 3 by Trial Magistrate Fred Crowe of Frostburg on a motor violation.

Six Months To Go

Before beginning the one-year term, Preston will have to serve another six months in the House of Correction, as he was found guilty on January 3 by Magistrate Crowe on another motor violation.

Last night Preston was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle and six months for operating a vehicle while his license was revoked, both sentences to run concurrently with a sentence of a year on an assault charge.

Magistrate Barton suspended a $10 fine for reckless driving when he sentenced Preston last night.

Escaped From Custody

The Frostburg man was charged with the three motor vehicle violations after he was picked up on Winchester Road on June 20 by Maryland State Police.

The assault count was placed against the man later by State's Attorney James S. Getty upon the complaint of Mrs. Billie Jane Ramsey, Winchester Road, who said the man broke into her home that same evening and struck her.

Preston had been a trusty at the Maryland State Police barracks in LaVale but walked away June 20.

Boat Operator Is Fined $100

The operator of an outboard motor boat which recently crashed into Glendale Bridge on Deep Creek Lake causing injuries to the driver and a passenger, was fined $100 and costs on a charge of operating a boat as to endanger another person.

Daniel D. Barker, 28, of Pittsburgh, driver of the craft, and John F. McGlynn, also of Pittsburgh, the passenger, are patients in Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, where they are reported "satisfactory."

Barker's mother and brother appeared before Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney in Oakland and pleaded guilty on behalf of the boat operator.

The sheriff's office said the accident occurred when the boat rammed a pier at the bridge located along a road from Grantsville to U. S. Route 219.

Mr. Barker has a cabin at Pond Run near the place where the accident occurred. The accident was investigated by Leo Friend, fish and game warden who patrols the lake.

Man Killed In Hit-Run

A 22-year-old Huntingdon, Pa. resident was killed instantly in a hit-and-run early yesterday morning about five miles north of Saxton in Bedford County.

The victim was identified as Harry J. Hirth of RD 2, Huntingdon, who died of a fractured skull. He was noticed lying along the highway by a passing motorist.

The investigation is being continued by Pennsylvania State Police who said the accident occurred at 12:05 a. m. along State Route 26.

They said the auto was northbound at the time of the accident, which occurred near the Bedford-Huntingdon county lines, about 20 miles north of Everett.

Search Under Way For Missing Pet

A search is under way in Cumberland for a black cocker spaniel which escaped from a B&O Railroad baggage car here Saturday night. The animal is the pet of a small girl who is ill in Arizona.

Mrs. Louise M. Hamilton was taking the dog to her daughter in Holbrook, Ariz., when the animal jumped from the car in Queen City Station.

The railroad is offering a reward for the dog's return. Mrs. Hamilton's address is 210 West Erie Street, Holbrook.

$32,500 Pledged As Industrial Drive Opens

11 Contributions Are $1,000 Or More

Pledges totaling $32,500 were made last night as community business and professional leaders opened a drive to finance the industrial promotion activities of the Cumberland Industrial Development Company.

The pledges, which represent about a third of the minimum goal for maintaining this area's industrial promotion effort, were made by 24 firms and individuals who attended a dinner meeting in the Cumberland Country Club.

Another 50 who attended were unable to make immediate pledges but are expected to do so when they have conferred with associates.

Among the top early pledges were the Potomac Edison Company, Works 7 of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and the Liberty Trust Company.

Eleven firms or individuals made immediate pledges of $1,000 or more last night, according to C. M. Sanner, campaign chairman.

Goal Is $100,000

He stressed that the minimum goal of $100,000 being sought will be used for industrial development efforts and that if capital funds are needed for buildings, another campaign would be needed.

Mr. Sanner indicated CIDC hopes to get at least $75,000 of its goal from the 160 representatives of firms and individuals invited to the meeting.

Some 500 other persons and firms will be invited to became members of the company, he said.

Past efforts of the community to get new industries were related by Former Chief Judge William C. Walsh.

He said the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation and Works 7 of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company located here as a result of community cooperation.

Mr. Sanner outlined the plan of operation of the CIDC which was formed to promote the social and economic well-being of the citizens of Allegany County by seeking to secure the location of new industries and the expansion of existing industries.

Necessary Step

Cumberland Industrial Development Company "is a necessary step in the right direction to help us meet our competition for new industries," reported Thomas W. Morris, industrial promotion manager.

It provides, he said, a vehicle not only for continuing the Cumberland area's industrial promotion effort but for meeting the financial needs of an industrial prospect.

Community-financed buildings into which a manufacturer can move with little, if any investment of its working capital in land or plant, he said, is one of the dominant factors in plant site selections by manufacturers.

He said CIDC's experience in processing hundreds of leads shows that seven of 10 or more firms seek either community participation in plant financing or the availability of an existing building or space which they can readily use on a lease or lease-purchase arrangement.

He said a number of communities with which Cumberland must compete have recognized the trend and have organized to meet the need.

Get New Plants

Strasburg, Va., he said, has obtained three new industries in recent years by community participation in plant financing.

Hazelton, Pa., with 42,000 people, since 1956, has helped four new industries create 910 new jobs with annual payrolls of close to $3,640,000. These are operating in 332,250 square feet of new plant space valued at $2,450,000. The new companies are General Foam Corporation, Capitol Products Corporation, Highway Trailer Company and Lewis Steel Products.

At Williamsport, with 45,047 people, four other industries have begun operations in community-financed plants since 1956. These have created 528 new industrial jobs with annual payrolls of $2,018,000. They use 196,000 feet of new plant space valued at $1,053,500. The companies are Steelex Corporation, Ille Electric Corporation, Vidmar, Inc. and Tetley Tea Co., Inc.

William L. Wilson served as master of ceremonies at last night's meeting.

Teachers Tour Clay Mine

Twenty-three teachers from various sections of Maryland, visiting in Allegany County on a conservation tour, yesterday had the thrill of riding on small cars used to carry clay from a mine at Mt. Savage. On the extreme left is Martin M. Gordon, work unit conservationist of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service here, who conducted the tour of the county, which included points of interest such as the clay mine and a brick plant at Zihlman. Byran L. Ashbaugh, State Department of Research and Education, is the teacher for the group taking a summer course on the teaching of conservation of natural resources at the University of Maryland. The teachers will visit in Garrett County before returning to College Park.

Open-Air Church Services To Start Sunday At Park

The Cumberland Ministerial Association again will sponsor services at Constitution Park every Sunday evening during July and August, beginning this Sunday.

The association has assigned three or four ministers to conduct the service each week in the amphitheatre at the park. In the event of rain, the enclosed area next to the open-air theatre will be used.

This Sunday, Rev. Ralph Burnette, pastor of First Christian Church, will speak on the subject "The Challenge of a Conquering Christ." Assisting with other portions of the service will be Rev. H. E. Heckert, pastor of First Church of the Nazarene, and B. U. Smith, general secretary of Central YMCA.

Music will be provided by the Allegany County Homemakers Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Paul Gilford.

The hour of the service this year has been changed by the association. The service will be held at 5 p. m. instead of 7 p. m. to prevent a conflict with those churches which hold regular Sunday evening services.

It was decided by the ministerial group that the new hour will enable many people of the Cumberland area to visit the park in the late afternoon and stay later for the concerts which are presented at the same location.

Mrs. Lepley Joins Health Nursing Staff

Mrs. Betty J. Lepley, Bedford Road, has been assigned to the nursing staff of the Allegany County Health Department.

The new public health nurse will be in charge of the Potomac Valley section, succeeding Miss Margaret Morrissey, who has retired after 36 years of service as a public health nurse.

Mrs. Lepley is a native of Meyersdale, Pa., and has been a resident of the city for four years.

She graduated from the Germantown Hospital and Dispensary School of Nursing in Philadelphia in 1943. She served at Army hospitals at Langley Field, Va., and Pratt, Kan., during her 30 months of service as an Army nurse.

She completed University of Maryland extension courses in public health nursing and child nursing during the past year.

Leaves Jail, Back In Hour

He was arrested by State Police who noticed him driving a car from a local used car lot. On June 17, Fresh was nabbed by city police as he returned a car to a used car lot.

Police said the man pulled into Murphy's One Stop that evening and ordered gasoline which he didn't pay for.

Also Sentenced On Motor Charges

A 22-year-old Frostburg man, David William Preston, who earlier this week pleaded guilty to three motor vehicle violations and was found guilty of assault last night was sentenced to a year in the Maryland House of Correction by Trial Magistrate Thomas Barton at Cresaptown.

Preston will complete a six-month term in Allegany County Jail tomorrow. It was imposed January 3 by Trial Magistrate Fred Crowe of Frostburg on a motor violation.

Six Months To Go

Before beginning the one-year term, Preston will have to serve another six months in the House of Correction, as he was found guilty on January 3 by Magistrate Crowe on another motor violation.

Last night Preston was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle and six months for operating a vehicle while his license was revoked, both sentences to run concurrently with a sentence of a year on an assault charge.

Magistrate Barton suspended a $10 fine for reckless driving when he sentenced Preston last night.

Escaped From Custody

The Frostburg man was charged with the three motor vehicle violations after he was picked up on Winchester Road on June 20 by Maryland State Police.

The assault count was placed against the man later by State's Attorney James S. Getty upon the complaint of Mrs. Billie Jane Ramsey, Winchester Road, who said the man broke into her home that same evening and struck her.

Preston had been a trusty at the Maryland State Police barracks in LaVale but walked away June 20.

Boat Operator Is Fined $100

Barker's mother and brother appeared before Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney in Oakland and pleaded guilty on behalf of the boat operator.

The sheriff's office said the accident occurred when the boat rammed a pier at the bridge located along a road from Grantsville to U. S. Route 219.
